

Home Demonstration Ladies Visit Karastan

A group of approximately 100 Home Demonstration Club ladies from Stokes County, led by Mrs. Ann H. Meadows of Danbury, Stokes Home Demonstration Agent, were recent visitors at the Karastan Mill and the Fieldcrest Store.

The visit to Fieldcrest Mills was designed to help the ladies in the selection and care of linens and floor coverings for beauty and long wear. Their observations here will be used as a basis for study and discussion at club meetings.

The visitors are shown in front of the Karastan Mill prior to their tour of the plant.

Performance Award Goes To Rug Loom 21

The Karastan Weave Room award for above - standard performance during April went to weavers and fixers on loom 21.

The Karastan Mill awards certificates each month on looms where above-standard performance is achieved in the five areas of loom efficiency, seconds, burling costs, housekeeping and yield. Each of these factors represents a crucial area involving quality and costs.

Loom No. 21

Weavers	Fixers
Irene Meeks	Wayne Griffin
J. C. Ragan	Robert Rodgers
George Whitten	A. G. Smith

Buy . . . Sell . . . Swap

FOR SALE: Size 13 Fruman coal stoker. Cheap. See Morris Turner at 1112 W. Washington St., Leaksville, telephone MAIn 3-3276.

FOR SALE: Boy's bicycle, 20" with training wheels. Call MAIn 3-3680.

FOR SALE: Matched ponies, red sorrells. Call MAIn 3-8954.

Greenville Leaders

High production award winners at the Karastan Spinning Division in Greenville for the month of May were:

Carding . . . . .	Edward Moore
Spinning . . . . .	Willa Morris
	Dorothy Bowen
Twisting . . . . .	Joyce Wilson
Reeling . . . . .	Rose Tripp

WILLIAM H. RICHARDSON, JR.

THOMAS E. BOYCE

Richardson, Boyce Promoted At Towel Mill

In organization changes at the Towel Mill effective June 1, William H. Richardson, Jr., office manager, was promoted to superintendent of warehousing, shipping and customer service, and Thomas E. Boyce, management trainee, was promoted to general night foreman of the Towel Mill.

Mr. Richardson replaces C. P. Wilson, superintendent of scheduling, warehousing and shipping, who retired under the Fieldcrest Pension Plan. Mr. Boyce replaces R. D. Hundley, night superintendent, another June 1 retiree.

A native of Roanoke who joined the company in 1937, Mr. Richardson worked on production jobs in several of the mills before he was transferred to the Standards Department in 1943. He was in the Navy over two years during World War II and after his return became head of the Karastan Standards Department. He later was an assistant foreman in the Setting Department at the Karastan Mill.

He became supervisor of the Labor-meter-Wastemeter in 1950 and two years later was transferred to the Towel Mill as head of the Standards Department for the Towel and Hosiery Mills. He was appointed head of production scheduling and customer service at the Towel Mill in October, 1955 and soon

(Continued on Page Eight)

THE MILL WHISTLE