Karastan Mill Is Host To Customer Group

Visiting customers observe a shearing operation during tour of Karastan Mill.

The Karastan Mill was host recently to the rug salesmen from B. Gertz, Inc., a Karastan customer in Jamaica, L. I., N. Y.

Rug salesmen from the main store and branches were included in the group. They were accompanied here by Robert P. Fex, Karastan salesman who serves the account.

The visitors spent a day in seeing the operations at the Karastan Mill and at the Karastan Service Center. They also visited the General Offices building and the Fieldcrest Store.

During their visit, the Gertz salesmen made the acquaintance of members of the general management of Fieldcrest Mills, Inc. as well as officials of the Karastan Mill.

The visiting customers are shown as they observe a shearing operation in the Finishing Department at the Karastan Mill.

W. B. Lucas (center), president of Morehead Memorial Hospital board of trustees, presents plaque to Technical Services Department for outstandingly generous contributions in Project D.T.C. campaign. The plaque was accepted by R. H. Tuttle, director of technical services, on behalf of all the employees.
