

FINISHING MILL—These Finishing Mill employees had perfect attendance in 1962. From left, Drewry T. Curry, Herbert Shockley, Ellis Hale, Ruby Stowe, Edna Howe, Dolly Dean, Josie Taylor, Tommy Patterson, Harry Wray, Carl Wise, Johnson Dillard and Thomas Meeks.

Ivan Hubbard (left), of and J. M. Eggleston, of Fin had perfect attendance reco

Spray Area Attendance Champion

National Ads Promote Fieldcrest Merchandise

(Continued from Page One)

September issue which will go on sale September 15.

The ad will be carried in The New Yorker for September 7 (on sale September 5), and in House & Garden Decorating Guide and Better Homes & Gardens Decorating Guide, both on sale September 17.

The Imperial Rose bedspread ad will appear in the winter issue of Modern Bride, on sale September 19; in the October issues of House & Garden, House Beautiful, and Sunset, all on sale September 20; in The New Yorker for October 5 (on sale October 3); and in the October issue of Vogue, which goes on sale October 15.

The automatic blanket ad is scheduled to appear in the November issues of House & Garden, House Beautiful and Sunset, all to go on sale, October 20; in The New Yorker for November 2 (on sale October 31); and in the November issue of Vogue, on sale November 15.

Quality Honor List

Blanket Mill weavers who made the quality honor list by working six months or longer through July 31 without a major defect in their cloth are listed below.

Newcomers on the list are Jesse B. Dishmon, Vernon L. Farmer and Harry R. Hylton, all jacquard weavers.

Plain & Dobby Weavers

James H. Black            H. Dillard Harris
Kate S. Fuller

Jacquard Weavers

Jesse B. Dishmon        Harry R. Hylton
Vernon L. Farmer       James R. Vernon

Russell Patterson (left), new assistant foreman at Bleachery, is shown with Carson Oakley, foreman.

Patterson Is Promoted To Assistant Foreman

The promotion of Russell C. Patterson to assistant foremen in the Cloth Finishing Department at the Bleachery has been announced effective August 1.

Mr. Patterson is a native of Rockingham County and served in the Navy for three years before attending Wake Forest College. He was employed at the Bleachery as a supervisory trainee in January, 1963, and worked on various training assignments in the Cloth Finishing Department.

The textile industry employs over one-half of all the people employed in manufacturing in North Carolina.

Sizable Number Of Employees In Various Mills Were On Every Working Day In 1962

On-the-job attendance champions in the Spray area mills are shown in pictures on these pages. As may be seen there were a number of employees at every Fieldcrest plant in Spray who had 100 per cent attendance throughout the year 1962.

Regular attendance on the job is imperative if efficient production schedules are to be maintained. When an employee is absent, more than his own job is affected, since most jobs are interrelated with other jobs in the department. Therefore, when a worker is absent and his job has to stand or be done by an inexperienced operator, there is a loss of efficiency for the department. Quality also is affected.

The Spray area employees pictured here contributed to the success of their respective mills by working every scheduled day in 1962.

In addition to those shown, the following persons had 100 per cent attendance during the year: Mae Richardson, Bedsread Finishing Mill; Lois Bryson, Henry Dillard, James Meeks and Betty Tipton, all of the Finishing Mill.

Buy . . . Sell . . . Swap

FOR SALE: 1956 Chevrolet automatic transmission. Call MAIN 3-2303 at 4 p. m.

FOR SALE: Camper trailer, sleeps 6. Equipped with gas stove and sink. Wired for electricity. Complete ready to roll. Ideal for hunting, fishing or family camping. May be seen at 309 Glovenia Street, Leaksville, telephone MAin 3-6102.

THE MILL WHIST