Setting Dept. Hits Million Safe Man-Hours

Employees Get Congratulations On Their Excellent Performance

Employees of the Karastan Setting Department have completed an outstanding record of a million man-hours without a disabling injury. As of October 31, they had accumulated 1,033,312 man-hours since the last lost-time injury occurred February 24, 1964.

On the date the million man-hours were attained, members of the mill supervision contacted each employee and personally thanked him or her for cooperation in the safety program. In a letter to employees, J. G. Cunningham, the mill's general superintendent, congratulated the employees and urged their continued efforts to prevent accidents in the future.

During "safety breaks" on each shift on the day the record was set, free coffee and doughnuts were served to all employees of the department.
