Business Information Changes Are Told

The following organization changes in the Business Information Department have been announced effective July 7:

Alfred L. Van Wyck, manager-information systems at the General Offices, Eden, was appointed director-data processing for John P. Maguire & Co., Inc., New York City, factoring firm owned by Fieldcrest. Mr. Van Wyck will be in charge of all of Maguire's data processing operations.

Carol R. Kasten, acting manager, was appointed manager-General Offices Information Services, Eden; and Jack Dowless, Jr., system analyst in General Offices Information Services, was appointed manager-corporate and Eden Domestic Computer Center.

Mr. Van Wyck is a native of Walden, N. Y. and received his B. S. degree in business administration from Rider College, Trenton, N. J. He served three years in the Navy between high school and college.

He has been associated with the U. S. Steel Corporation, McGraw-Hill, and the Revenue Department of the State of Georgia. Immediately prior to joining Fieldcrest he was manager-systems and automation at Allied Chemical Corp., Hopewell, Va.

Mrs. Kasten graduated from Morehead High School, Eden, and attended Wake Forest University for one year. She joined Fieldcrest as a shipping clerk at the Blanket Warehouse Office and in just a few months was transferred to the Data Processing Department as a key punch operator. She became successively an I.B.M. technician, EDP planner and, in April, 1969, was appointed acting manager-General Offices Information Services.

Mr. Dowless, a native of Aberdeen, attended North Carolina State University for a time and then entered Kings Business College in Raleigh where he graduated with a degree in automated data processing. He joined the Smithfield Data Processing Department in 1963 as a tabulating machine operator.

In October, 1964, he was transferred to the Blanket Warehouse Data Processing Department as an I. B. M. technician and was appointed supervisor of the department in July, 1965. He subsequently was an EDP planner at Blanket Warehouse, system analyst in Tri-Cities Information Services and systems analyst for the Business Information Department.

Gardner Writes Book On Safety Training

James E. Gardner, training manager at Fieldcrest, is the author of a new book, "Safety Training for the Supervisor", which has just come off the press.

The 144-page paperback is published by Addison-Wesley, Reading, Mass., and is in the Addison-Wesley series in supervisory training.

The jacket describes the book as "intended to provide supervisors and foremen with better means of improving safety by training them in the analysis and correction of the causes of unsafe acts".

Written in two parts, the first part of the book deals with the role of the supervisor in training, motivating and correcting. The second part presents a series of realistic case studies designed for role-playing.

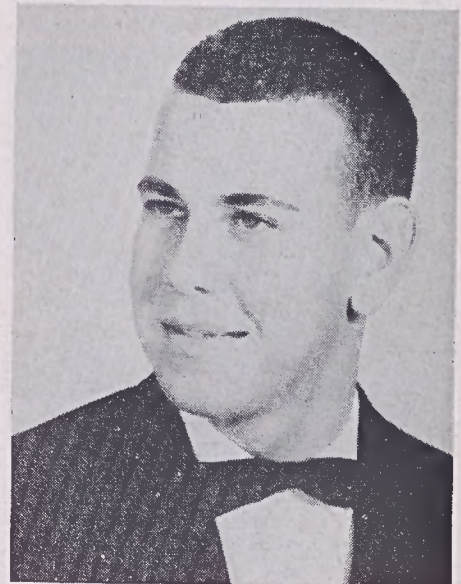

Mr. Gardner, a native of Pennsylvania, has been with Fieldcrest Mills since 1941. A member of the American Society for Training and Development, he received an A. B. in English and an M. A. in education from the University of Michigan. He also holds an M.A. in psychology degree from the University of Maryland.

Hall Receives Degree

R. Wayne Hall, a Fieldcrest Scholarship recipient and former employee, has received his master's degree in physical education from Western Carolina University.

He graduated from Morehead High School at Eden and was awarded a Fieldcrest Scholarship in 1963. He attended Lees-McRae College for two years and for one semester at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He then enrolled at Western Carolina University and received his undergraduate degree there in June, 1968.

Mr. Hall was employed at Fieldcrest Mills in the summers between school years. His wife, the former Joy Sams, was formerly employed in the Internal Auditing Department at the General Offices. His mother, Hazel D. Hall, is a weaver at the Blanket Mill.
