

United Fund

(Continued From Page One)

services and programs being offered.

The Eden United Fund agencies and the amount allotted to each for the 1971 budget year are as follows: Boys Club, $14,110.33; Boy Scouts, $14,300; Girl Scouts, $5,141; Red Cross, $11,368.34; Rescue Squad, $5,654; Retarded Children, $2,500; Salvation Army, $7,169; YMCA's (Central, Draper and Henry Street), $45,000; Carolinas United, $7,354.13; and contingencies, $12,403.20.

William L. Atkinson, of Leaksville Bank and Trust Company, is president of the Eden United Fund; Charles Nooe, a local attorney, is general chairman of the community-wide fund campaign; and Lyman A. Collins, of Southern National Bank, is chairman of the budget and admissions committee.

Winchester Over Top

For the second consecutive year, the Winchester Spinning plant at Asheville has averaged a "Fair Share" per employee in the United Fund campaign.

One hundred percent of the employees participated in the campaign by pledging a contribution in some amount, virtually all of them giving a "Fair Share".

25-Year Meetings

(Continued From Page One)

members of the 25-Year Club. Of this number, 143 are active employees and 74 are retired.

New members to be welcomed into the club at the meeting are: Newland N. Baucom, Lucille A. Carter, Helen S. Craddock, Maurice Lee Fagge, Charlie G. Hall, Elton Hall, Carl Keaton, Roger H. Myers, Lee P. Rierson, James H. Roberts, James L. Stephens, William Quell Strutton, Doris W. Washburn and Ruben H. Wray.

General Superintendent

Kenneth M. Vaughn has been named general superintendent of the Bedsread Finishing Mill, replacing Robert W. Harris who was appointed general superintendent of the Fieldale greige mill at Fieldale, Va.

A native of Wentworth, Mr. Vaughn holds a B. S. degree from Appalachian State University. He joined Fieldcrest in August, 1965, as a management trainee at the Bedsread Finishing Mill and in November, 1965, was made assistant foreman in the Packaging Department.

In April, 1966, he became foreman of the Packaging Department. From March, 1970, until his latest appointment he served as foreman of the Drape Department at the Bedsread Finishing Mill.

JAMES E. BURNETTE

WILLARD A. HOLTON

Burnette And Holton Complete 40 Years

James E. Burnette, of the Blanket Mill, and Willard A. Holton, of the Columbus Towel Mill, have completed 40-year records of continuous service with the Company.

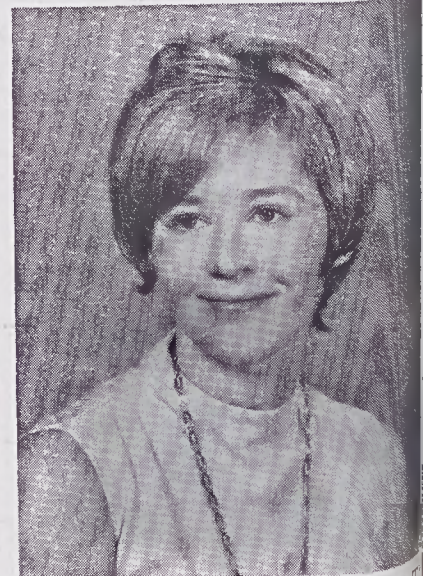

Each has been presented with the Fieldcrest 40-year service emblem and a letter of commendation from G. William Moore, president and chairman of Fieldcrest Mills, Inc.

Mr. Burnette has continuous service since October 4, 1930, when he was employed at the Blanket Mill as a filling carrier in the Weave Room. He worked as a tie-in machine operator, utility hand and tie-in helper until July, 1949, when he became a reed and harness man, which is his classification at the present time.

Mr. Holton, superintendent of the Cut and Sew Department, Columbus Towel Mill, has continuous service since October 1, 1930. He began work as Greige Room supervisor and worked as supervisor-Ticking Finishing and overseer Ticking and Terry Finishing until he was appointed to his present position in 1937.

Alice Warner Named To New PR Committee

Alice Warner, associate editor of The Mill Whistle, has been appointed member of the public relations committee of the Piedmont Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, serving the four counties of Rockingham, Guilford, Caswell and Stokes.

Other members of the committee are Lee Kinard of Channel 2 "Good Morning Show", chairman; Dan T. Griffin, WBIG, Greensboro; Mrs. Nancy Clellan, WGHP-TV, High Point; Bert I. Smith, radio station WNOS, High Point; Paul Allen, station WCBX, Greensboro; David Wright, director of "The Newsmaker," WFMY-TV; Mrs. Elton T. Jr., Reidsville; and Woody Woodruff, Friendly Center, Greensboro.

KENNETH M. VAUGHN