

Division president F. W. Green greets Betty Wadsworth, Molly Lockwood, of Ladies' Home Journal.

With June Mohler (center) are Betty Wadsworth, and Ruth McLeod, of Bride's Magazine.

J. P. Roberts and sales pro...

Spring Collections Shown To Press

(Continued from Page One)

wore a glamorous silver and white pantsuit made of the metallic knit shower curtain material from the "Chrome" Collection, which she accessorized with a silver belt and shoes.

Also acting as hostesses representing the Fieldcrest Publicity Department were Miss Wes Greene, who wore a black jumpsuit topped by a "Safari" Collection jaguar vest made from an antique gold and ebony jacquard towel; Miss Pat Donovan, who wore a gaucho ensemble that combined culottes, made from the "Safari" Collection ebony and cinnamon tiger jacquard towels, with a black blouse, sequin vest and vinyl boots; and Miss Gayle Smock wearing a stunning Super-Graphics "Triad" rug and a poncho over a black jumpsuit.

As the preview drew to a close, departing guests received press kits rich with color photography, as a gift of a Super-Graphics "Triad" chain, designed to carry through the modern chrome motif chosen for the event.

In view of the extremely favorable comments and the exciting 1971 Fieldcrest merchandise they drew them, it was apparent that a very good year has just begun.

W. M. Stark (standing) answers questions for Agnes Benjamin and Fred Murphy, of Essence Magazine.

Frances Phillips, Meg Munder, of House and Garden; Pat Donovan; Ruth Finley, of Fashion Calendar.