bree Fieldcresters Elected To City Offices

A. G. Singleton, who retired from lieldcrest March 1 as division vice President and director of plant enginfering, was elected Mayor of Eden at he reorganizational meeting of the city Council on May 10. He was chosen unmimously by his fellow councilmen.

In addition to Mr. Singleton, who won election as councilman from Ward 6, two other Fieldcresters were winners in the recent municipal elections. Broadus Burgess, retired foreman of the Plant Service Department at the Blanket Mill, was re-elected as councilman from Eden's Ward 7. Cuff W. Hopper, a senior auditor in the Auditing Department at the General Offices, was elected a member of the board of aldermen at Madison.

While, for Mr. Singleton and Mr. Hopper, it was their first bid for public office, Mr. Burgess is a veteran city official. He was Mayor of Draper at the time of consolidation and has served on the Draper and Eden boards for all but two years since his first election in 1952.

New York Group Tours Karastan

A group of 46 men and women from Cortland, N. Y., recently visited the Karastan Rug Mill on a tour arranged by the Cortland County Extension Service in conjunction with the Rockingham County extension agent.

Ira Blixt, Cortland County extension agent, was in charge of the group, consisting primarily of dairy farmers and their wives, which toured industrial and historical sites in North Carolina, Maryland and Virginia.
