Bedsread Employees Complete First Aid Course

First Aid In Accident Cases Emphasized In Course Given Attendants And Supervisors

A four-hour first aid course developed through the Medical, Safety and Training Departments was taught in the Bedsread Mill conference room for 12 employees of the Bedsread Mill.

It was given in two sessions on September 8 and 9, for employees of the second and third shifts. A similar course for first shift employees is to be scheduled in October.

Lloyd Bolt, medical technician in the Medical Department, was instructor for the course. Mr. Bolt has had standard and advanced courses in first aid as well as instructor training.

The course was designed to enable supervisors and first aid attendants to render first aid in an accident resulting in injury until the injured person can be taken to the Medical Department or to a hospital.

Mike Booth, mill training coordinator, presented certificates to Troy Newman, Ralph McCaston, Lewis Carter and Bill Tulloch, (Carding); Walter Tinsley (Spinning); Orell Shelton and Henry Harrison (Dye); Margie Hall (Weave); Jackie Martin and Henry Classon (Cloth Room); Irene Tulloch and Grady Powell (Yarn Preparation).

Card Of Thanks

We would like to thank our friends and neighbors for the flowers, food, cards, visits and prayers and all other acts of kindness shown us during the long illness and at the death of our loved one, Willard Stultz.

Your thoughtfulness will never be forgotten. May God bless each and every one of you.
