2 Promotions At Greenville Are Announced

Jan S. Vincent, formerly general foreman, has been promoted to plant manager of the Karastan Spinning Mill, replacing Luby M. Skinner who was appointed plant manager at the Laurelcrest Yarn Mill.

In another organization change at Greenville, Edward Wayne Greene was promoted to superintendent of the Karastan Worsted Plant. He previously was general foreman at that mill.

All three men report to J. Melvin Moore, division vice president-carpet yarn manufacturing for Fieldcrest Mills, Inc.

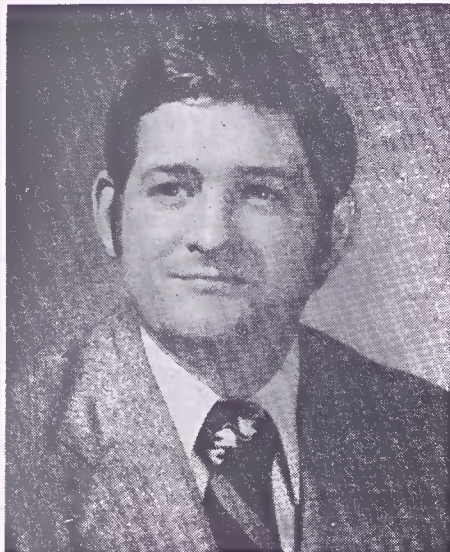

Mr. Vincent, a Greenville native, attended the Greenville city schools and East Carolina University. He joined Fieldcrest Mills as a quality control technician at the Karastan Spinning Mill in 1965.

He served as assistant foreman in the Spinning Department and the Twisting and Winding Department. He was foreman of the latter department until his promotion to general foreman in August, 1970.

Mr. Greene, who was born at Buchanan, Va., has been with Fieldcrest in Greenville since 1961. He was a laboratory technician at the Karastan Spinning Mill before becoming assistant foreman of the Wool Picking Department in 1963.

He has since held supervisory positions in various departments at the Karastan Spinning Mill and the new Karastan Worsted Mill. At the latter plant, he became a shift foreman in August, 1970, and had served as general foreman since April, 1972.
