

Home Economics Students See Two Finishing Mills

Steve Robinson, guide, answers questions for Dr. Pauline Keeney, Dr. Eileen Francis, Heather Stubbins, Smithtown, L. I., and Claudia Tutterrow, Greensboro.

A group of 18 clothing and textile majors and graduate students in the School of Home Economics at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro toured the Bedspread Finishing Mill and the Sheet Finishing Mill recently as a field trip in connection with their studies.

Dr. Pauline Keeney, professor of home economics, arranged for the tour and accompanied the students on their visit to Fieldcrest. Also accompanying them was Dr. Eileen Francis, assistant professor of home economics.

Preceding the tours, the visitors assembled and heard talks by K. M. Vaughn, plant manager, Bedspread Finishing, and K. W. Foddrell, plant manager, Sheet Finishing, who described the respective operations and told what the visitors could expect to see during their tours.

Guides were Mike McDaniel, Henry Elliott and Jack Moore, Sheet Finishing; Steve Robinson, George Aheron, Dewitt Tharrington and Mike Brannon, Bedspread Finishing.

Michael David Yeatts

Michael David Yeatts, four months old, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald D. Yeatts of 407 Patterson Street, Eden. His father is employed in the Weave Room at the Karastan Rug Mill. His paternal grandfather, Wilmer C. Yeatts, is employed as a quality co-ordinator at the Karastan Rug Mill.

Left to right, Mike Brannon, guide; Emily Watson, Raleigh; Judy Frank, Lexington; Emily Miller, Greensboro. Operator, seated, is Abbie Lampkins, a seamer.

Gets Mountain Goat

David Blackburn, a weaver at the Fieldale Towel Mill, poses with a mountain goat which he killed with a bow and arrow on January 27 at the Arrowhead Hunting Preserve. The animal had a horn span of 34 $\frac{3}{4}$  inches.

Christie Depree Cassell

Christie Depree Cassell celebrated her first birthday on February 14. She is the daughter of Sandra Faye Cassell and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Young. Her grandfather works in the Spinning Department and her grandmother, Ann, works in the Weave Room at the Draper Sheeting Mill. Christie's aunt, Joyce Young, is employed in the Office at the Bedspread Finishing Mill.

Michael Rodney Trent

Michael Rodney Trent celebrated his second birthday on February 16. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael R. Trent. His mother, Glenda, is employed as a lab technician at the Bedspread Mill. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Wilson of Ridgeway, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. George Trent of Eden. Mr. Trent is employed at the Non-Woven Mill and Mrs. Trent, Alice, is employed at the Draper Sheeting Mill.

THE MILL WHISTLE