

THE MILL WHISTLE

Fieldcrest

Karastan

Vol. 32

Eden, N. C., July 30, 1973

No. 2

SUMMER MAGIC — Little Laura Marie Fain, age two, ponders the mysteries of nature as she prepares to blow a dandelion puff into the air. Laura is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Fain. Her mother, Linda, is employed at the Sheet Finishing Mill.

Dr. Charles G. Young Is Named Medical Director

Dr. Charles G. Young assumed his duties July 30 as medical director of Fieldcrest Mills, Inc., replacing Dr. Joseph G. Springer who recently resigned from the Company.

Dr. Young was engaged in general practice in Greensboro for 10 years. In 1963 he left private practice and was employed by DuPont in New Jersey in their industrial medicine function. For the last five years, he has been assistant medical director of Esso Research Laboratories in Linden, N.J.

A native of Winston-Salem, Dr. Young received his undergraduate education at Wake Forest University and was awarded his M.D. degree by the Duke University School of Medicine. He interned at City Memorial Hospital, Winston-Salem and completed a one-year residency at Moses Cone Hospital, Greensboro.

He has engaged in postgraduate studies in various specialties including areas of occupational medicine at Jefferson Medical College, Columbia University (College University Hospital-School of Public Health) and New York University Medical Center.

Dr. Young is married and has four children. He, his wife Marie and their children will be moving to Eden as soon as housing arrangements can be made.

DR. CHARLES G. YOUNG

Foundation Gives 52 New Educational Grants-In-Aid

The Fieldcrest Foundation has awarded an additional 52 grants-in-aid to assist children of Fieldcrest employees who wish to attend technical schools, do college work or participate in other forms of education beyond high school.

The newest grants, together with the 30 renewals of grants awarded previously, make a total of 82 grants-in-aid that have been given to date for the benefit of employees' children.

The individual grants range upward to $1,000 a year and may be given at any stage of a student's educational career beyond high school.

The educational grants program, started in April, 1972, recognizes that many individuals may more profitably attend technical institutes or take trade courses rather than attend a four-year college or university.

Therefore, it is designed primarily to aid employees' children who wish to attend technical schools or take technical courses such as mechanics, secretarial work or paramedical courses (nursing, medical technicians, etc.)

However, those attending four-year colleges or universities, or continuing their education beyond the undergraduate degree may also receive grants.

The grants-in-aid are distinct from the Fieldcrest Scholarships, also given by the Foundation, in that the grants are primarily for aiding employees' children in line with their financial need. Fieldcrest Scholarships are based on academic achievement as well as need.

The names, together with brief information about the latest recipients of educational grants-in-aid, are printed below:

Susan Lee Adkins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Adkins. She is a graduate of Fieldale-Collinsville High School. She is registered in the Danville Memorial Hospital School of Nursing. Her mother (Nova) is a shear operator at the Fieldale Towel Mill.

Rickie Bryan Austin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Austin, is a graduate of North Rowan High School and has been
(Continued on Page Six)

New Lines Shown At Karastan Sales Meet

New carpet and rug lines were introduced and Karastan's selling program was reviewed by John F. Deery, president of the division, at the Karastan sales meeting held in June at the Pine Needles Lodge at Southern Pines.

About 75 staff members from Karastan marketing and manufacturing and from Fieldcrest Mills, Inc. took part in the meeting which was conducted by Ben W. Binford, Vice-President of Sales.

The group also heard a report on corporate developments from William C. Battle, President of Fieldcrest Mills, Inc.

Karastan's new carpet and rug fashions for the fall were introduced by Robert V. Dale, Vice-President of Styling and Design. As presented by Dr. Dale, the division is offering new broadloom lines and two new area rug styles. The rug designs, he noted, were purposely developed to take advantage of the renewed interest in "Americana" themes due to the nation's upcoming Bicentennial celebration in 1976.

Mr. Deery cited the increased importance of multi-color patterns in carpets and rugs as exemplified by a number of the

(Continued on Page Seven)

John F. Deery, President of the Karastan marketing division and a corporate Vice-President of Fieldcrest Mills, is shown here addressing the opening session of the Karastan sales meeting held in June at the Pine Needles Lodge in Southern Pines, N. C.