

12 Complete First Aid Course At Scottsboro

Twelve employees at the Scottsboro Rug Mill recently completed the American Red Cross eight-hour Multi-Media first aid training course and are now certified first aid attendants.

Gloria Hilton, R.N., of the central Medical Department staff conducted the course which was held in two four-hour sessions on October 16 and 17.

J. P. Foster, general manager of the Scottsboro Rug Mill, commended the employees who completed the course and said, "Hopefully these employees will never have to use these skills because accident prevention is our goal, but should the situation arise, I believe they will be able to act immediately without any difficulties."

Those who completed the first aid course are: Agatha D.

Dobbs, Table Top Tufting Department; Irene C. Ferguson, Inspecting; Jimmy Gay Fossett, Warehouse and Shipping; Thomas Goins, Coating; Annie L. Green, Warehouse and Shipping; Kenneth D. Higginbotham, Customer Service; and Charlotte R. Hudson, Design.

Also, Homer E. Ledbetter, Laundry; Barbara A. Pritchett, Inspecting; Bobbie Stewart, Table Top Tufting; Josie Wallingsford, Packaging; and Michael D. Lewis, Warehouse and Shipping.

Three Named To New Positions In Karastan Marketing Division

Edward J. McRae has been named western sales manager in the Karastan Marketing Division, succeeding John S. Eggleston who was recently appointed vice president for sales at Karastan.

Mr. McRae will have his headquarters at Karastan's San Francisco sales offices and will report to Mr. Eggleston.

It was also announced that James J. Beirne has been named to replace Mr. McRae as salesman for New York City accounts. Mr. Beirne had been southern Florida territory manager for Karastan.

Robert B. Dyer, formerly Florida sales representative for Laurelcrest Carpets, will move to the Karastan division and take over Mr. Beirne's responsibilities in Florida.

Mr. McRae started with Karastan in 1965 after attending Pace College. Following various sales service positions he was named a territory manager in the midwest in 1970.

In 1971 he was made a commercial carpet specialist servicing key accounts in the New York area. He took over the important New York City sales responsibilities in January of 1972.

Mr. Beirne began his career in the carpet industry with Karastan in 1961, working out of the New York sales headquarters. He subsequently held sales posts with Alexander Smith and Aldon Industries.

He rejoined Karastan in 1971 as commercial carpet specialist, servicing accounts from the company's Chicago sales office. In January of this year he was named to the Florida sales post.

Mr. Dyer joined the Karastan organization in 1956 in the manufacturing division. He moved to the marketing division in 1964 and was named to a sales service post in 1967.

Following the acquisition of the Laurelcrest division by Fieldcrest, Mr. Dyer joined the Laurelcrest sales staff in 1968 and was named territory manager for the northwest region. In January, 1973 he was assigned the southern Florida territory for Laurelcrest.

United Fund

(Continued From Page One)

room at the General Offices. The drawings were held after the deadline for this issue of The Mill Whistle and will be reported in the next issue.

Golfing champs Wendell Koger, left, and Norman Dodson, proudly display chafing dishes which they won in golf tournament.

Fieldale Golf Champions

Three Fieldale employees were winners in the Lynwood Country Club golf tournament held September 28 and 29.

Wendell Koger, a loom fixer, won the fifth flight; Norman Dodson, section foreman in the Slashing Department, won the fourth flight; and John Perry, a filter operator, won second place in the fourth flight.

Mr. Koger was also co-winner of the best ball contest in the fifth flight. Mr. Dodson, while playing in the tournament, broke 80 for the first time.