

Let's Reduce Accidents Caused By Human Error

Walter Tinsley, a fixer in the Spinning Department at the Bedsread Mill, points at the micro-switch inside the head of a spinning frame. When the door latch is open, the micro-switch automatically shuts off the power.

The safety record at Fieldcrest is good, but it can be better. The best way to improve our record is to prevent human error. Here are some ways in which everyone can help prevent accidents:

1. Practice good housekeeping. Keep aisles as clear as possible at loading and unloading points. Clean up spilled liquids, grease or powdered material immediately.
2. Avoid loose clothing or jewelry that might be caught in machinery or moving materials. For men, long neckties, open sleeves and jackets are hazards. For women on most jobs, bracelets and beads can be hazardous.
3. When lifting is required, keep your back as erect as possible. This posture, according to physiologists, uses the heavy leg muscles and places minimum tension on those parts of the body most subject to injury from lifting. Ask for help if a lifting job is too heavy for one person.
4. Do not make repairs unless you are authorized to do so. Report the need to your supervisor. This applies also to major oiling and grease jobs.
5. If every individual employee makes safety his or her responsibility, even the best safety record can be improved.

Many Receive First Aid Training

(Continued From Page Two)

Laurelcrest, New York — Mary Ann Povane and Brenda Nappi.

Karastan, New York — A. W. Cleaver, William R. Coleman, Russell Koch and Stafford Stratton.

North Carolina Finishing, New York — Ted Lint and Leigh Charpok.

Mount Holly Spinning — Pat Abernathy, Delbert Stewart, Ernest Stines, Steve Miller, Barbara Herrin, Arthur H. Justice, David Anthony, Essie McCorkle, Margaret Stewart, Mary Batton, Ethel Hester, Michael Ketchum, Charles Goins, Ellen Chavis, Jessie Brown and Raymond Grice.

'Colorburst' Towels On National TV

Characters from The Edge of Night, which was one of the national television shows sponsored by Sears, Roebuck and Co., are shown here. Featured in the "Colormates" ads was the Colorburst towel, made by Fieldcrest exclusively for Sears. In photo, left to right, are Mandel Kramer (chief of police Bill Marceau), Teri Keane (Mrs. Marceau), and Sam Schacht (Paul Fairchild).

Receive Fieldcrest Scholarships

(Continued From Page One)
and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Her father is an administrative assistant in the Laurelcrest Marketing Division, New York.

Jeannie Darlene Law is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fred Law and will graduate from Morehead High School. She has been admitted to Appalachian State University and plans to major in elementary education. Her father is a filling carrier at the Blanket Greige Mill.

Patsy Ann McEntire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Raleigh Wilber McEntire, Sr., will graduate from Chase High School. She expects to attend the University of North Carolina at Greensboro and study home economics. She plans a career in fashion merchandising. Her father is a lift truck operator at the Alexander Sheeting Mill, Forest City.

Lawrence Mann Graduates In UNC Executive Program

Lawrence L. Mann, assistant treasurer of Fieldcrest Mills, Inc., received the certificate of completion in The Executive Program graduation exercises held Friday, April 4, at the University of North Carolina School of Business Administration at Chapel Hill.

UNC Chancellor Ferebee Taylor presented the certificate to Mr. Mann, marking the completion of an intensive program which began last October. Dean Maurice W. Lee and Prof. Rollie Tillman, director of The Executive Program, presented the graduates to Chancellor Taylor.

Mr. Mann completed over 120 hours of classroom instruction, 60 hours in small group discussions and some 250 hours of reading and preparation during seven different residence periods at Chapel Hill.

The 22nd Executive Program class includes 46 business leaders from six states representing 44 companies. The advanced course is designed for men and women in management. Subject areas include government and business, banking and monetary policy, human behavior, long-range planning and marketing management.

LAWRENCE L. MANN

Teresa Irene Newsome, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Newsome, will graduate from Smithfield-Selma Senior High School. She has been admitted to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and will major in biology or pre-med courses. Her mother (Hazel) is a box assembler in the Packaging Department at the Automatic Blanket Plant, Smithfield.

Anna Olivia Pratt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor Pratt, Sr., is a member of the graduating class at Morehead High School. She has been admitted to the University of North Carolina at Greensboro and expects to major in music. Her mother (Anna) is a clerk-typist in the Domestic Quality Control Department.

Wilson Manning Smith, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson M. Smith, Sr., will graduate from Scotland High School. He has been admitted to Presbyterian College and will take preparatory courses leading to a career in dentistry. His mother (Emma) is a cost clerk in Mill Accounting at the Laurelcrest Carpet Plant.