Martha Wingfield, jackpot winner

Employee At Fielddale Is Winner Of $176 Jackpot

Martha Wingfield was watching Channel 8, WGHP-TV in High Point, when the "Dialing for Dollars" program called her number, selected at random from the Martinsville, Va., telephone directory.

Mrs. Wingfield was able to answer the quiz questions correctly and was told that she had won the jackpot of $176. She plans to use the money toward improvements at her home.

Asked to describe her feelings when told that she had won the money, she said, "I wasn't too excited but my seven-year-old son, Ben, Jr., was jumping up and down."

Mrs. Wingfield is a hemmer in the Cutting and Sewing Department at the Fielddale Towel Mill, Fielddale, Va., and has worked there for six years. She and her husband and two children live at 1209 Hickory Street in Martinsville.

"I've called today's meeting to discuss absenteeism."

Fielddale Wins Sears Award

first for the Fielddale Towel Mill.

James P. Hite, towel buyer for Sears, said "This award is our salute to those suppliers who have, through their excellence, made significant contributions to Sears' reputation for quality merchandise. It also recognizes each employee for his contribution to the superior performance of the plant."

Mr. Hite said Fieldcrest Mills was selected for the Sears "Symbol of Excellence" by a committee representing the company's retail stores, catalog plants, national service department, quality control personnel and merchandise development and testing laboratory. The committee screened nominations from Sears 50 national buying departments.

He said that Sears buys from 20,000 manufacturing plants and that of the 12,000 major suppliers the Fielddale Towel Mill was singled out as one of the 470 whose efficiency, workmanship, standard of quality and dependability of supply have been most outstanding. Fielddale Towel Mill said employees will be notified by letter, bulletin board and personal contact as the award presentation ceremonies are developed.
