

Celebrate Birthdays

Stephanie McDowell is five years old and her brother, Walter, is one year old. They both celebrated their birthdays on December 14, 1976. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Walter McDowell, Sr. Their father is employed in the warehouse at N.C. Finishing Company.

Zumsteg

(Continued From Page One)
representing the best in fabric design covering many centuries. For example his "documents" or "friends", as he calls them, include Italian brocades from the Renaissance, an obi or kimono sash worn by a 15th century Japanese Empress and the "Josephine" fabric commissioned by Napoleon.
But these historic fabrics are just the starting points for his design ideas. His considerable creative talent comes into play when he builds upon the rich ornamentation of the past to create new concepts, new approaches to suit today's lifestyles, moods and environment.

The "Ethnique" area rug which he designed for Karastan is an excellent illustration of how Zumsteg links the past with the "now." He delved into the primitive art forms found in the folk costumes of various Middle European groups in developing the graphics for the rug design.

The bold diagonal stripes in the border and the small geometric jewel forms in the field are motifs frequently seen

Gammonses Grow Own Lemons

Four years ago Jasper and Flora Gammons brought a tiny lemon tree back from Florida. It was so small they brought it back in a paper cup.

Today the little sprig has grown into a bushy, four-foot tree which bears about a peck of lemons each year. The fruit is large, very juicy and very tasty.

Mr. and Mrs. Gammons say they squeeze the lemons, freeze the juice and use it throughout the year for lemonade, pies and other goodies.

"We didn't know if it would bear fruit or not," Mr. Gammons said. We just used regular fertilizer and put the tree outside in the summer and on our sunporch in winter. We're going to try an orange tree next."

Mr. Gammons is a card grinder in the Cotton Carding Department at the Blanket Greige Mill and Mrs. Gammons is a spinner in the Wool Spinning Department, also at the Blanket Greige Mill.

in these folk costumes and other ornamentation of this genre. At the same time the design projects the sense of the "romantic" which is his current styling signature.

Happenings . . .

Jasper Gammons at home with lemon tree.

Honored By Rainbows

Tina Pistilli was named Rainbow Girl of the Month for December, 1976. She is a senior at Morehead High School where she is a member of the Girls' Chorus and also of the Pep Club.

Tina has been a member of the Order of Rainbows for about two years. She presently holds the office of Faith, and has previously held the offices of Love, Religion, Service, and Drill Leader.

She is the daughter of Major and Mrs. Edwin R. Pistilli of Eden. Her father is Fieldcrest project manager for the Wackenhut Corporation.

TINA PISTILLI

FIELDALE

Top Weavers, Fixers

Weavers W/E December 19, 1976

Dobby Terry ..... Arthur Hancock
Jacquard Terry ..... Robert Ferguson

Fixers W/E December 19, 1976

Dobby Terry ..... Claude Austin, Jr.
Jacquard Terry ..... Phillip Marshall

Weavers W/E December 12, 1976

Dobby Terry ..... Arthur Hancock
Jacquard Terry ..... Norman Rakes

Fixers W/E December 12, 1976

Dobby Terry ..... Claude Austin, Jr.
Jacquard Terry ..... Roger Moore

Weavers W/E December 5, 1976

Dobby Terry ..... Evelene Adkins
Jacquard Terry ..... Carl B. Witt

Fixers W/E December 5, 1976

Dobby Terry ..... Bert Finley
Jacquard Terry ..... Roger Moore

Winners in Fieldale drawing.

Drawing Held At Fieldale

William Walker, center in photo, won the grand prize of a television set in the recent drawing among Fair Share givers at the Fieldale Towel Mill. She is employed in the Sewing Department. David Sprouse, Fieldale plant manager, far left, congratulates Mrs. Walker as well as the winners of towel sets in the drawing.

Weave; Desmond Felts, Weave; Wally Thompson, Warehouse Office; Robert Niblett, Slashing; Harold Cooper, Shipping; and Glen Faw, Slashing.

Also, second row from left, Conrad Pilson, Weave; Claude Becker, Beam Dye; Ronnie Chaney, Spinning; Thomas Foley, Slashing; and Daniel Jones, Carding. Not present for pictures was Ryland Roher, Sewing, who won a towel set.