A mad dog was killed near Goldsboro, last Friday. He had bitten two other dogs, but fortunately, did not have time to do any other damage.

A burglar attempted to enter the residence of Mrs. Murphrey, in Fayetteville, last Saturday night, but the striking of a match frightened him off.

TEAS.—WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.—J. W. Scott & Co., have just received direct from the Importers a nice lot of Teas—guaranteed good strength and fine flavor; Not low priced, trashy goods.

A couple of our young men were out riding last Sunday when the horse became frightened and ran away, breaking the buggy into good kindling wood. Fortunately neither of the gentlemen were hurt.

Though Prohibition is now the law in our city, some of the devotees of John Barleycorn manage to get their "wee drap" occasionally, as we saw three of them last Tuesday rolling over on the pavement and pulling hair in good old fashioned style. The question is, where did they get their whiskey?

The entertainments given under the auspices of the Girl's Orphan Aid Society, in the Town Hall, at Goldsboro, last Thursday and Friday evenings, proved a success. The cash receipts foot up $130.00, of which $105.00 was forwarded at once to Mr. Mills of the Orphan Asylum.

Several days ago as the housekeeper at the D. D. & B. Institute was sitting in her room at the Institute, a spent rifle ball entered the window and fell at her feet.—News

Three cheers for the pleasing intelligence that Jones Bros. have opened their warehouse for the sale of tobacco, and good prices are guaranteed. This is indeed good news, and all interested should avail themselves of the advantage.

We are requested to announce that Past Grand Master Seaton Gales will visit Buena Vista Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of this city, on the 30th inst. and will fully exemplify the secret work. All members of the Lodge are urgently requested to be present. Visiting brethren are also invited to attend.

The prudent and far-seeing traveler on visiting Winston will not fail to stop with that clever, whole-souled gentleman, Brother P. A. Wilson of Wilson's Hotel. Capital fare and rooms, polite servants and the best of attention make this one of the best places in the State for the weary traveler. Bro. W. will please accept our thanks for special courtesies.

Now that Spring is putting on its garlands of flowers, and all nature is expanding into its full-fledged beauty, the "human form divine" should not be neglected. Bogart has purchased a large and elegant stock of Spring and Summer Goods, suitable to all classes of his customers, in beauty, quality, and price. Go and see them.—

A protracted meeting began at Pleasant Garden last Sunday, under the direction of Rev. Mr. Rush Allen Jay, of the Society of Friends, is expected to preach there on to-morrow (Saturday) at 2 o'clock, P. M., and also on Sunday.

Some of our exchanges have had a great deal to say about "editorial ability." What a country editor really needs these hard times is the ability to live on about three shillings a week.—Reidsville Times.

We are pleased to see that work on South Elm street progresses, and that the gutters are being cleared, the sidewalks filled and the street put in general good order. This is right gentlemen, let the good work still go on and our lady pedestrians will call you blessed.

A gentleman remarked to us yesterday that he had been to Boston and many northern cities and sat down to tables that cost $2.50 per plate, but never had he seen anything to equal the feasts prepared by Col. Brown of the National and served to the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows.—Ral. News.

The flattering Patronage awarded to Chamberlain's Jewelry emporium during the holidays has induced him to keep his stock complete, and he is constantly receiving invoices of new and elegant Jewelry, Silver and Fancy Ware, and will take great pleasure in exhibiting his beautiful designs to any who may call. Personal attention to fine Watch-work and the manufacture of Special Jewelry. 35—

Our Foreman smokes, and in accordance with this dirty habit, he procures his tobacco ready prepared. A few weeks since he got a package and on examining it pronounced it horse feed, it being part oats; he then got another package and pronounced it sheep feed, it being largely composed of fonder; he then got a package of Trowbridge's "Best" and was happy for a few days, but last Thursday our "devil" went to investigate the package a few moments after the Foreman had filled his pipe and pronounced it cat feed, as it contained an old mouse and four young ones. And still he is not satisfied at the contents of his tobacco bags.

The Border Daily Express of Danville, Va. in speaking of the eating capacities of its neighbors says one of them went to Chambers' Snack House and consumed one can of tomatoes stewed, two pounds of Shaner's best butter, four cuts of ham, large size, two plates of potatoes, one loaf of bakers bread, two corn cakes; two plates of onions; two cups of coffee. When he finished and called for his bill, he said he thought he ought to have a deduction as he had taken dinner by the wholesale. Jim could not see it in that light, but told him he would leave it to his own good conscience, and full stomach to say. The matter was arranged satisfactorily and the fellow said he did not want to beat him out of anything, but only wanted a good meal.

The Editor visited Winston this week, and found the town busy and prosperous. It is evidently one of the most flourishing towns in Western North Carolina, and its great prosperity and rapid growth is wholly attributable to its tobacco trade, brought there by its numerous Warehouses in which the weed is purchased for the leading factories all over the country, North and South. This immense tobacco trade has built up a diversity of other business, and its population is increasing in proportion to its growing business and wealth.

Will not the capitalists of Greensboro be advised by this sure example and build warehouses and factories? We are surrounded by as good a tobacco section as any in the State, and why let it be carried to Winston, Reidsville, Durham and Danville for their enrichment while Greensboro grows the poorer by it? This is a natural centre to which it would readily come if there was any adequate market for it.

The Anniversary of the Guilford County Bible Society will be held at the Methodist church on next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. C. H. Wiley, the State Superintendent, will address the meeting. All the churches in the city are cordially invited to be present.

On last Saturday Dr. Wm. R. Capehart landed at one haul at his fishery on the Albemarle sound over three thousand rock.—More than half the fish weighed upwards of fifty pounds each. This the largest haul of rock ever made in this county with the exception of the never to be forgotten haul of sixteen thousand rock made before the war at Capt. Wm. T. Sutton's fishery. In spite of this good haul of Capehart's our fishermen have done a poor business. Some of the papers attribute this fact to the destruction of herrings in the ocean by the blue fish. Albemarle Times.

Sunday morning two negroes confined in our jail for larceny made their escape. When the jailer opened the cell door three of them suddenly seized him, and but for the timely assistance of another prisoner, Warren Hare, would have killed or seriously injured him. The two above mentioned succeeded in making their escape after being ineffectually fired upon, and up to the present have not been recaptured.—Sentinel.

On Sunday about 12 o'clock one mile this side of Reidsville, N. C., the down freight train ran over a colored child between three and four years old and instantly killed it. The engineer did all in his power to stop the train of 17 heavy freight cars, which was coming down grade, but alas! too late. The fireman very narrowly escaped death himself as he jumped from the engine while in motion, and as he was about to grasp the child at the imminent peril of his own life, the pilot struck and carried the child under the wheels of the engine. The remains were turned over to the mother of the child.—Border Express.

Capt. H. G. Whitehead, of this place, captured from Barefoot's Mill pond three miles West of Wilson on Saturday last a chub fish, weighing 4 1/2 lbs. In cleaning the chub, the cook discovered that he had swallowed two rocks weighing a half pound each and several 1 1/2 inch iron screw taps weighing over a pound.—Wilson Advance.

We have received No. 1 of the North Carolina Farmer started by J. H. Ennis and Co., of Raleigh. It is a 16 page monthly, is well gotten up and deserves the patronage of our farmers.
