TEAS.—WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.—J. W. Scott & Co., have just received direct from the Importers a nice lot of Teas—guaranteed good strength and fine flavor; Not low priced trashy goods.

The prisoners in the county jail made another attempt to break out last Sunday, but were discovered in time to prevent it.

The Watchman man has been counting the flags in Salisbury. Here, in Greensboro we'd almost as soon undertake to count the stars.

A Mr. Flint, from Hartford, Conn., has settled at Morehead City and will drive a large business with the interior in the fish and oyster trade.

Let it not be forgotten in these dull times that a penny saved is two pennies made. Determined to "do as he would be done by," Bogart keeps his goods so low that all can buy; and as an evidence of public appreciation his stock has to be replenished weekly to meet the demands upon it. Almost anything in the line of Dry Goods can be found at 44—BOGART'S.

After having been sold in Goldsboro, Raleigh and Charlotte, the bale of cotton donated to the Orphan House by a Wayne county farmer has been sent to Wilmington to be sold a rail. Thus far it has brought by the sales $250. Keep it going.

The Roanoke and Tar River Agricultural Society will hold its 7th annual Fair at Weldon on the 24-27 of October. The Society is out of debt, and the premiums are larger than have ever before been offered. The Salisbury Fair begins at the same time.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS hence if your dead be removed from the grave wherein you placed them, their remains can be identified by a neat engraved Coffin Plate such as FARRAR is now prepared to furnish,—either plain or emblematic. He has a large supply suitable for Masons, Odd Fellows, and the various Churches. His prices are low and he engraves them free of charge. In this, as in all other branches of his trade, he will give entire satisfaction.

Centennial trains are now on the move constantly. Two passed through last week; and now tickets on the regular trains are so cheap that any one with a decent suit of clothes and a few dollars can make the trip. Quite a number have gone from here. But does not all this Centennial mania make money scarcer at home? Doesn't it injure business?

The Piedmont Press, at Hickory, will issue a daily until after the election. Spunky.

Superior court is still in session, this week, though not so many people in town as last week. We haven't learned the state of the docket, nor the character or result of the cases tried.

Danville is mourning at not having a brass band. If Manning, Dechert and Bouldin can't do blowing enough for the whole town, then we're no judge of sample editors. But a little brass tooting would help the place.

The flattering Patronage awarded to Chamberlain's Jewelry emporium during the holidays has induced him to keep his stock complete, and he is constantly receiving invoices of new and elegant Jewelry, Silver and Fancy Ware, and will take great pleasure in exhibiting his beautiful designs to any who may call. Personal attention to fine Watch-work and the manufacture of Special Jewelry. 35-

The Raleigh News rejoices over the returning prosperity of that city, and the flattering influx of trade that has turned upon them. This is the turning period in the business tide, and it is hoped that the whole land will look up and become permanently prosperous.

The Sunday School in the penitentiary at Raleigh is a fine success. Previous to its establishment, say the Raleigh papers, swearing, gambling and fighting were general among the convicts, but now all that has changed, and the leisure time of the prisoners is employed in reading the Bible, religious books and papers. It is hoped that this good example will be followed in other prisons in the State, looking to the moral reformation of that unfortunate class, the foundation of whose vices and transgressions is that of ignorance.

DISMAL SWAMP ON FIRE.—The great Dismal Swamp is on fire. Over 2,000 acres are now burning over, destroying timber and doing great damage to the land, the surface of which is a rich vegetable deposit several feet deep. Gangs of laborers are engaged in cutting ditches and using all other precautionary means to prevent the spread of the flames to the richly cultivated fields of the farmers in the swamp. As a result of these fires, Norfolk and Portsmouth are overhung with thick clouds of disagreeable smoke.

The Newbern Nutshell says: Mr. Joseph Nelson, of this city informs us that he recently received a letter from his wife, who is on a visit to Warren county, in which it is stated that during a heavy thunder storm in that county a few days since, a negro man was struck by lightning and instantly killed. The body of the unfortunate man was placed in a barn to await the abatement of the storm. During the night lightning struck the barn, and it was with difficulty that the body was taken from the building before it was burned to the ground. On the next day the remains were interred in a cemetery near by. Shortly after the funeral another storm came up and two trees, the branches of which hung over the grave, were struck by lightning.

A gentleman had his horse stolen at the Pleasant Garden Camp Meeting about two weeks ago, and pursuing the thief captured him, he was tried last week and sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary. The gentleman also found his horse, near Danville, Va., and recovered it. Quick work and well executed.

ACCIDENT.—Just as we go to press we learn that this (Tuesday) morning the sleeping car attached to the through Express, Richmond train, jumped the track near Brown Summit, 12 miles from here, injuring a number of the passengers. Drs. Logan and Gregory went down to attend the sufferers. At this writing we are unable to report particulars.

The Mt. Airy Watchman reports a horse with five well formed hoofs. What next?

The Danville News says: An enterprising restaurant keeper at the Centennial grounds has the following bill of fare printed for his customers.

"Old Virginia Bacon, sifted corn cake and butter milk, boiled collards with bacon side and red pepper. Square meals 20 cents each.

There is money in our old fields lying hid in that which people tread upon as perfectly useless. The Concord Sun says: The fragrant pennyroyal is at last being utilized. Some time ago we mentioned the fact that Mr. Calvin Fisher was engaged in the manufacture of sasafraz oil. Since then he has commenced distilling oil of pennyroyal which is more profitable, the price being about $1.80 per pound in our own markets. A gentleman from the neighborhood reports that there is quite an excitement on the pennyroyal question, and all hands have turned out to gather it. Two hands can collect a two-horse wagon load in a single day.

Saturdays telegrams announced the capture of "Boss" Tweed, and comment has been rife ever since, and the following in last night's despatch, confirms the report, beyond doubt:

LONDON, Sept. 10.—In response to a request for a repetition, the Renter's agent at Madrid repeats verbatim the news of the arrest of Tweed, adding that the prisoners are closely guarded at Vigo by the military authorities. The first Secretary of the American legation has requested the extradition of Tweed, and he will consequently be handed over to the American authorities

STILL FURTHER.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—A special dispatch from Burgos to the Daily News states that Tweed was arrested at Monteviedra, where he landed from a sailing vessel in which he escaped from Cuba. Mr. Aden, Charge D'Affaires of the United States, in the absence of minister Cushing, visited the Spanish minister of foreign affairs at La Grange, and arranged for the surrender of the prisoner to the American government. The Spanish authorities knew of Tweed's sailing for Spain, and preparations had been made for his arrest long before his arrival.
