

hereby bequeath to Virginia Toney my dignity. To Betty Doux I leave my A report card.

I, Beth Bagby, do hereby bequeath to Ethel Mae Sparrow my burton figure and my devotion to the ministry to Betty Taylor.

I, Madge Banks, do hereby bequeath my school-girl complexion to Gertrude Gilmore and my curly hair to Nancy Gaston.

I, Laura Bedinger, do hereby bequeath my unerring sickness at exam-time to Tissie Lunn. To Joan Cartwright I leave my rust (?) hat which was entrusted to me to be passed on in turn. I bequeath my night habits to Marguerite McEachern, requesting that she take as good care of them as I have.

I, Grace Bozard, do hereby bequeath my dirty test tubes to Bernice Stroup. My position as "Mistress of Gaither Hall" I leave to Katherine Herring.

I, Bernice Butler, do hereby bequeath my studiousness to Ruby Wynne. I bequeath my knowledge of the Bible to Mary Elkins. (She needs it.)

I, Ray Calhoun, do hereby bequeath my nickname "Baby Ray" to Rae Pattishall. To Mary Mellette I leave the gavel of the A. A.

I, Izzy Carter, do hereby bequeath my lunch in English class to Helen Clapp. To Harriet Adams I bequeath my ever-present and ever-beautiful curly hair.

I, Sophia Carter, do hereby bequeath my place on the library to Mary Green. My roommate I leave to "Cleo Pole" Warnock.

I, Jessie Carmichael, do hereby bequeath my chessy-cat grin to Myrtle Hawley. To my cousin, Hassie Swift, I leave my position in the Senior Class.

I, Emylie Castles, do hereby bequeath my pomposity in the Senior Play to Vivian Musterman. My ungraded commercial papers may go to Eleanor Parks.

I, Mary Clapp, do hereby bequeath my "ad"-ging ability to Emmalee Jones and to Clara Rosich I dedicate "My Bill".

I, Sarah Clark, do hereby bequeath my unbeatable waitress style to Billie Kidd and Ruth Merchant, and to Tony Parrior I donate about six years of my time done here.

I, Alice Davis, do hereby bequeath my Chapel Hill trips to Betty Burrows, so she can visit her handsome cousin there. To Annette Koger goes my gift for Spanish.

I, Alice DuBose, do hereby bequeath my "foot-balls" and asperin to Ruth Frye. My sensible steadfastness I bequeath to Ruth Bacon.

I, Anna DuBose, do hereby bequeath my "Sunterian" accent to Clorine Burgin, and to Ruby Devine goes my post-mistress job.

I, Sara Drew, do hereby bequeath "Little One" to Leila Gibert and best wishes for next year to Anne Scruggs.

I, Martha Belle Duncan, do hereby bequeath my poster-making job to Mary Marshall Mitchell and my notebook of A. A. Board happenings to Mary Maner.

I, Marion Gall, do hereby bequeath my "think nothing of it attitude" to Janie Yates. "Little Love" goes to Nancy Truelove.

I, Dorothy Godfrey, do hereby bequeath my quiet and unassuming ways to Dessie Ledbetter.

I, Hilda Grant, do hereby bequeath my unique pronunciation to Martha Little and my surplus weight to Polly Ramsey. My brain-power I bequeath with all my heart to Sallye W. Sturgeon.