

ALUMNAE

(Starts on page 3)

the names of all the presidents of the Alumnae Association. The only ones to my knowledge are Lillian Russell of Montreat; Mrs. J. Fred Johnson (Elizabeth Doggett) of Kingsport, Tenn.; Mildred Brooks Krainock (Who now has a young son named Stephen Wade Krainock); Lucile Gardner, Cornelia Brown, working in Asheville and living in Black Mt.; and Elizabeth Welton, working in Washington, D. C.

All information is gladly accepted by the Alumnae Association, so don't hesitate to give us the facts.

We wish all of you could have been in Montreat last week-end. I hope you have an idea of what we did, so you will make a special effort to be here next Thanksgiving.

Best wishes to each one of you,

Sarah Niblock,
President, Montreat Alumnae Association

Note: Many other replies to our letter and subscriptions to the Dialette have been received since the above was written. For that we express our thanks.

Margaret E. Smith
Secretary, Montreat Alumnae

Ladies, skip this paragraph!

If there's anything worries a woman
It's something she ought not to know
You can bet that she'll find it out
If you'll give her the least kind of show,
Now, now, I'll wager a half to a dollar
This poem, she's already we know she'd get at it somehow
If she had to stand on her head.

Average is a nest. Mens lay on the average.

The Soccer season is officially over, but before we bid final adieu to it for this year, let's have a brief resume of the last games played.

All four tribes were pretty evenly matched, but when it came to the final draw, the Cherokee Tribe was given a hearty cheer of "Congratulations!" from the entire student body.

The traditional game was held Thanksgiving between the "I" club and the Varsity. "Dickey" was pulling from the side lines, and believe you me, it was a real game, but the honors go to the Varsity.

The season was declared over when the Junior class challenged the Senior class to a game. That was S.C.E. game, and the Juniors took the Seniors down, 6-4.

Now Indoor Sports are in full swing! The Recreation Hall has been turned into a "game room." Games of ring tennis, ping-pong, Chinese checkers, American checkers, and caroms are set up, and every day finds an enthusiastic crowd making the rounds.

Even those who don't play find it some fun watching Lillian Abraham play ping-pong. "Freckles" McDonald's neat control of the ring tennis has attracted a great deal of attention--to say nothing of the way Mary Stentz maneuvers the American checkers.

Playing or watching, you have a marvelous time!
