

NOTES FROM THE SWEET SHOP

There is nothing like a chocolate ice-cream soda after a hard day of classes. Ask Barbara Hand, she knows. Lately third period has become the most popular hour for the "gathering of the clan at "Mikes". Did you ever see so many ham-sandwiches as those alley-cats can put away--to say nothing of those ham-burgers Ann Turner was caught eating! Maybe it is those comfortable leather chairs in the booths that draws Jimmie Rowland. Anyway, she was snoozing away, and on a banana split, too! "Dagwood" must have been especially good, because Olive Bradshaw, Bonnie Lou Baumgardner, and Georgia Smith were seen in a sea of giggles on Tuesday. Your reporter has heard there are "things" going on at the "corner grocery"; so I'm off to see what it is all about. So as one native of the North Pole said to another native of the North Pole, "Bye Eskimo, be an ice girl."

PAJAMA DAY

Traditional "pajama day" has been postponed until May 7. This occasion when we all wear pajamas to class does not need to be explained to you now students due to the upper classmen. They certainly did a thorough job in explaining because the stores have been jammed with "Montreaters" in search of the "niftiest" pajamas in town almost a month now. Let's all pull for 100% cooperation and make this occasion a huge success.

WERE YOU THE FIRST ONE

CAUGHT?

MENU

The menu for the last week of school is something for even "Oscar" of the Waldorf to sit up and take notice of. Breakfast, lunch, and dinner for one day is as follows:

For Breakfast Cereal and Fruit

Choice of:

grits	sausage	sliced tomatoes
toast	coffee	jelly
or
waffles	bacon	maple or corn syrup
toast		coffee

For Lunch Fruit Cocktail

sliced ham	potato salad	pear
deviled eggs	olives, pickles	rolls coffee, tea, or milk
chocolate pie	or	caramel pudding

For Dinner

chicken soup with rice
or

tomato cocktail

Choice of one:

turkey with dressing Breaded veal cutlets and cream potatoes steak and french fried potatoes

Choice of any two vegetables:

carrots	cauliflower
peas	spinach
rolls

fresh peach ice-cream
tea, coffee, or milk

In case your memory fails you between now and then, you needn't worry, because printed menu's will be furnished with such as that, all exam papers should come in above 90%.

