

TALK OF THE TRIBES (Continued)

Here at Montreat, we go out for sports by tribes. Each one of you college girls is a member of the Choctaw, Mohawk, Hiwassee, or Cherokee tribes; and it's up to each of you tribe members to make your tribe the best on the campus. There will be four tribes for the high school this year, also, instead of the former two. So rally round your chief when the war-cries sound, and push your team to victory.

Helene Ellis, Cherokee tribe chief, thinks as all loyal Cherokees do that their tribe is tops. "Come on, Cherokees", she says, "and let's show Montreat that we've got the real spirit, and do your part in supporting your tribe."

Kathleen Pleasants, Mohawk tribe chief, enthusiastically declared: "Last year our Mohawk tribe was just the best, even if we didn't always win. I know all the new Mohawks will keep up that spirit and support our tribe, making it even better than last year. We're counting on you, Mohawks."

Margaret Painter, chief of the Choctaw tribe, was just as enthusiastic. "Come on, all you Choctaws, and let's show everybody that we have that grand Choctaw spirit and pep. We're going to have a wonderful time this year, so come on out and start off with soccer and hiking."

Evelyn Saxon, leader of the Hiwassee warriors, has this message for you. "We're depending on you new members to help us keep up the super spirit and reputation of the Hiwassees as the best tribe in school. Let's start the season off right by going out for soccer and hiking."

Come on, Montreaters, let's go out for sports; and as Flora Bell, our Athletic President says, "You can be sure that you will enjoy every minute of your stay in Montreat!"

for spiritual growth and development. It's up to each of you to take advantage of these opportunities.

There is a challenge the Y. P. C. would like to put before each of you new girls. To each of you who is interested in all out Christian work and development, make it your goal to become a member of the Y. P. C. Council when the new one is chosen in the spring. Why not begin today with that goal in mind, to live each day here on the campus in the Christ-like way.

THE SUN DIAL STAFF

The word "welcome" has been working overtime during the past week, but it is the only word to express the message to the new students from the members of the SUN DIAL Staff.

There seems to be some very promising Staff material among the ranks of the new Montreat girls. Try-outs will be held soon for those who are interested in joining the Staff.

The monthly paper, The Dialette, is published by the Staff for your enjoyment, so any suggestions will be considered and appreciated.

The Staff is glad you are here.
