

THE DIALETTE

Vol. 13, No. 5.

MONTREAT COLLEGE, MONTREAT, NORTH CAROLINA

February, 1947

High School Board Announces Valentine Program

MEMBERS OF CAST PLAYING IN "THE LAND OF BON BONS"

Fun Begins With Carnival at 7:00 P. M.

Tonight Anderson Chapel will be the scene of gala Valentine festivities, a double feature program sponsored by the High School Athletic Board, and under the direction of Miss Carrie May McElroy. The program consists of a Carnival opening at 7:00 p. m. and a comedy operetta beginning at 8:30 p. m.

How long has it been since you had a creamy, delicious chocolate sundae, or a fat hamburger with all the fixing, or a cold coco-cola? The shelves at the Carnival drug-store will be amply supplied to furnish good food for all.

High entertainment at the carnival is promised at the fish pond, in the fortune tellers' booth and in the fun house.

Candy Lives In Comic Operetta

Do you want to see living candies? Do you want to see them dance, act and sing? Can you imagine Joyce Oliver as a chocolate drop, Norma Hill a peppermint stick, Betty Jo Cooper a
—Continued on Page 5

What's In A Name?

By Cordie Hylton

Have you ever noticed the remains of the old sun dial down in Central Park? Only a cement base is left of the once impressive dial which bore the inscription, "We count only the sunny hours". Did you ever associate it with our yearbook, suspecting that this part time-keeper was the origin of its name?

It isn't really, although it did contribute the motto, slightly revised, "We only count the hours that shine." The title itself was borrowed from a student newspaper at Randolph-Macon College, and Miss Nannie Watkins, an alumna of that school, and at that time principal of Montreat, was instrumental in its choice.

The first issue, in 1924, was not as large as the copy of the Dialette that you hold in your hand. It consisted of four small pages, was unbound, and had only group pictures in it. The Alma Mater, by Mrs. Armistead, was printed for the first time in this issue which was sponsored by Miss Annette Crocheron, head of the English Department.

No traces can be found of an annual for the following year; but in 1926 a larger, paper-bound volume appeared. Nineteen hundred and twenty-seven marked the tenth anniversary of Montreat Normal School, and there was an anniversary publication to commemorate it.

Each year has marked improve-

—Continued on Page 4

Tradition Of Annual G. W. Party Is Revived

"Well, h'lo George, where in the world are you going all dressed up?"

"Who, me? Well, shucks, I'm going to a party in my honor. Martha and I are both going—why don't you come along?"

"Now, George, what would I wear? Here I stand in jeans and you're all dressed up in lace and ribbons and—well look at that George, you even have your hair powdered! !"

"You know it! Did you ever see George Washington going to a party when he wasn't dressed up? And listen, all I did was roll my jeans up to my knees; tie a ribbon around the bottom of both pants legs, with the bows in

—Continued on Page 4

Bible School Training Course Will Be Offered

On April 23, 24, and 25, Miss Elizabeth Glascock from Richmond, Virginia, will conduct at Montreat College a Bible School Institute consisting of intensive curriculum training for teachers in Daily Vacation Bible Schools.

In preparation for this training course, for which students will receive certificates of credit, Miss Anderson will teach a ten-hour course based on the textbook, Understanding Children, by Sherrill, for several weeks before the date of the institute.

Dr. James Carr of Nashville, Tennessee, Director of Religious Education for the Synod of Appalachia, was in Montreat Thurs-

—Continued on Page 3