

High School Clubs Meet

The High School Music Club had its last meeting of the year on April 5. Those taking part on the program were: Mary Taylor, Jane Norman, Mattie Lee Ladd, Mary Holshouser, Lida Martin, Lee Brewer, Dorothy Holcombe, Francine Larrinoa, Anne Hallman, and Barbara Gladstone.

The March meeting of the Alpha Phi was held in the rec hall. The officers for next year were elected as follows; President, Mary Ann Phillips; Vice President, Nancy Hopkins; Secretary and Treasurer, Mary Don Doty. After the elections, the members played games and enjoyed refreshments.

New members were chosen for the "M" club on March 20. They are: Helen Brewer, Bradie Cox, Louise Chandler, Margaret Hobbs, and Willie Kerlee.

Haven't you noticed those smug grins on the faces of Mattie Lee Ladd, Mary Helen Vanes, and Charlie Creaseman? They have received their chevrons, and for Charlie, it's the second one.

get the 'Pivory Alaces,' and how hard we all tried to learn it that way. I must admit that we weren't as reverent as we might have been in our efforts to mix the words of the hymns. I don't think any of us ever quite succeeded though."

Miss Collette warned against going out without being fully clothed. "It won't work." When she was here, students ate and slept in the Alba; and it seems that some of them found they could sleep an extra half-hour by wearing a coat to breakfast over their pajamas instead of dressing. The first time she tried it, she was sure she was being very smart in deceiving Miss Wade, who sat at the same table. However, as Miss Wade rose to leave she whispered, "Ruth, I believe I'd get up in time to dress for breakfast from now on."

In 1936, the year she was graduated she Editor of the first issue of the Sun Dial to include pictures of all the classes; and when she returned later as a teacher, she was sponsor.

In September, Miss Collette, President of the Alumnae Association, plans to go to Brazil as a missionary. In the meantime, she is busily working on plans to increase the power of the Association in Montreat policies.

Joan Rodrian Challenges Cabinet At Installation

In a short, impressive service, the new cabinet was installed in Gaither Chapel Saturday evening, April 10. Each new officer pledged, "I do hereby solemnly promise before these witnesses to execute faithfully the regulations and policies of the Montreat College Student-Faculty Government Association, to uphold and maintain the dignity of the office to which I have been elected, and to perform to the best of my ability the duties which devolve upon such an office, and to keep confidential all discussions of the respective meetings."

"Carey Lee, we learn from the past, we can't be too sure of the future—that's up to God—but we live in the present.

"There is one thought I want to leave with you as you take your office—perhaps you have already thought of it. Montreat is not just a college. Montreat is a spirit, a feeling—you might even call it an atmosphere, and every girl who has it knows what I mean. Its something you keep deep down in your heart and no individual or situation can take it away from you—don't forget it. It will live in the heart of each girl wherever she goes. You have this spirit; that is why I am confident that under your leadership, the Montreat student body will go forward.

"This is yours," concluded Joan, handing Carey Lee the mallet. "May God's will be done through you this year."

Old Board Members Choose "Twins"

"The Fix-It Shop," a skit, was presented on April 9, in the Rec Hall by the Athletic Board. The Board used this skit in tapping the new members of the Board for the coming year. During the program, there were many surprised expressions and happy shrieks as the girls learned they were on the Board. Congratulations, girls!

The new members are:

President, Edie McMullen; V-President, Vangie Watts; Secretary, Lucille Vaught; Treasurer, Mary Ruth Denman; Executive Assistant, Margaret Brown; Navajo Tribe Chief, Meldonia Coley; Mohawk Tribe Chief, Emily Cashwell; Cherokee Tribe Chief, Joan Guthrie; Choctaw Tribe Chief, Pat Harley; Hiwassee Tribe Chief, Betty Charles McLeod; Cheerleader, Ina Williamson; Soccer, Tweedle Swann; Volleyball, Mary Lou Masters; Basketball, Betty Jean Genoble; Indoor Sports, Martha Barrett and Mildred Jones; Softball, Cappy Shultz; Co-Hikers, Alice Rogers and Florence Young; Publicity, Helen Verser; Tennis, Sylvia Sanchez.

The Executive Assistant is a new addition to the Board, and she is a member of the executive committee.

Twin day was on Saturday, April 10. All the old and new members of the Board wore blue and white, the Board colors. The initiation was planned for the following Friday and Saturday, April 16 and 17.

The new members will be installed at a service on Saturday evening, April 17.

Council Holds Impressive Candlelight Installation

The council of the Christian Youth Fellowship, '48-'49, was installed Sunday, April 11, at the evening vesper service.

The theme of the service was "Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in heaven." The retiring officers of the Christian Association passed their lights of service to the new officers by lighting their candles from ones which they carried. Gladys Goodman, retiring president, reminded the student body and the council members that only hand in hand with God can a place of real service be found. Virginia Wood, the new president, asked for the prayers and cooperation of each girl in order to make the new year a successful one. Dr. King, Pastor of the Montreat Church, spoke a few words to the two councils. The service was concluded by a consecration service in which everyone present also carried candles of service and sang together, "Seal us, O Holy Spirit." This was followed by the recessional of the councils singing "Follow The Gleam."

Music Club Presents Classical Numbers

The Music Club, sponsored by Miss Lord and Miss Woodhouse, presented an excellent program at its last meeting. The majority of the piano numbers were selections from the classical composers—Tschaikowsky's Waltz from The Sleeping Beauty; Bourree, by Bach; Sonata in C, by Mozart; Chopin's Waltz in A Minor; May Nigt, by "the Finnish Chopin," Palmgren; and also Allegro Molto by Low. The voice selections were also noteworthy—a collection of Bergerettes by Weckelin; Mother McCree; The Lord is My Shepherd, by Samuel Liddle; and selections for the moderns Currah and Manna-zucca.
