

THE DIALETTE

Vol. 14, No. 2.

MONTREAT COLLEGE, MONTREAT, NORTH CAROLINA

November, 1948

MONTREAT AWAITS THANKSGIVING

Students Choose Superlatives

The student body of the College and the School held elections recently to elect the class superlatives for '48 and '49. The following girls were chosen from the senior classes of the college and high school, respectively: True Spiritual Vision—Virginia Wood from Iron Gate, Virginia, and June Norman from Apalachicola, Florida; Joy In Learning — Vickie Samburg from Lake City, Florida, and Barbara Gladstone, of Chattanooga, Tennessee; Graciousness — Elizabeth Miller, of Raphine, Virginia, and Jean Stephens of Yanceyville, N. C.; Sportsmanship — Silvia Sanchez from Havana, Cuba, and Jean Courreges of Atlantic Beach, Florida.

The titles of these superlatives were chosen to represent the four-fold purpose of Christian growth as outlined in Luke 2:52 "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man." WISDOM is represented by Joy in Learning; STATURE, by Sportsmanship; AND IN FAVOR WITH GOD, by True Spiritual Vision; and IN FAVOR WITH MAN, by Graciousness.

We'd Like You To Meet...

She's not a very big girl, but she gives the impression of being full of energy. Her eyes sparkle, and her words are quick and peppy. Everyone knows her mischievous smile now, even though she didn't come to school until long week end.

Her name is Georgina Lopez, and she comes from Havana, Cuba. She heard about Montreat from

—Continued on Page 6

JERRY HOFFMAN

ANNE McCLINTOCK

McClintock And Hoffman Share Honors Of 1949 May Day

Dr. Carr Demonstrates Use of Visual Aids

On Tuesday, November 16, Dr. James Carr, Regional Director of Religious Education for Appalachia Synod, showed some film strips to the Religious Education class and to other students interested in church work. Before showing the films, he spoke on the place of visual aid in the work of the church, emphasizing the fact that it was to enrich every other method of teaching and was not to serve as a substitute for no lesson at all.

Dr Carr said that visual aid not only made learning more permanent and more pleasant but also added to the effectiveness of worship programs.

The two films he showed were "How To Use Film Strips In The Church," and "Two Dollars." Since many students were unable to see them, he has promised to come at later date and show still other strips to the entire student body.

Anne McClintock, blond, blue-eyed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McClintock of Winnsboro, S. C., will reign as May Queen next spring, according to the announcement made in the DIALETTE "Extra" which was published November 16. Geraldine Hoffman, a brunette high school senior from Lawrenceburg, Tenn., will attend her as Maid of Honor. Both girls have been honored before for their beauty. Anne served as junior representative to the May Court last year, and Gerry is representing the senior class of high school this year in the soccer queen beauty contest.

The Court of "Queen Anne" is made up of a representative from each class in college and high school.

Representing the college classes are Betty Whittle, senior, from Orangeburg, South Carolina; Dorcas Connelly, junior, from Hopewell, Virginia; Helen Verser, sophomore, from Hampton, Virginia; and Wilma Carr, freshman,

—Continued on Page 5

Freshmen Plan Banquet To Climax The Day

Church services in Gaither Chapel at 10 o'clock, School soccer game at 11:30, College soccer game at 2:30, banquet at Assembly Inn at 6:30, and a trip to the movie in Black Mountain at 8:30 — these are spokes in the wheel of Thanksgiving Day activities which will keep Montreat students in a gay and busy whirl.

Both soccer games will be played between the "M" Clubs and Varsity teams.

The banquet is sponsored by the Freshman College Class, and the program will include a welcome by Betty Marshall, class president, response by the president of the student body, Carey Lee Pratt, and a talk by Dr. McGregor.

Four Montreat Students Attend Youth Conference

The sixth annual conference of the Westminster Fellowship of Students was held in Knoxville, Tennessee, November 5, 6, and 7. The First Presbyterian Church and students from the University of Tennessee, who are members of the local Westminster Fellowship, were hosts for the delegates attending.

A well-rounded program was planned with periods of inspiration, study, and fellowship. The theme for the conference, "The Christian Student's Moral Responsibility," was emphasized particularly by the main speaker, the Rev. David Worth Sprunt, professor of Bible at Southwestern University in Memphis, Tennessee. Other members of the teaching staff included pastors, professors, DRE's, and student workers.

The officers elected represent three of the colleges and universities of the Synod: President, Joe White, Lees-McRae; Vice-president, Sam Fowler, University of Tennessee; Secretary, Louise Ro-

—Continued on Page 6