H. S. COUNCIL

In an impressive candlelight service, the High School Youth Fellowship Council was installed on April 10, in Gaither Chapel.

The old and new councils, wearing white robes and carrying candles, entered to the processional "Lead On, O King Eternal." Following the installation, the student body joined in a service of rededication.

The new council for '49-'50 is as follows: President, Hope Weideman; Secretary, Dixie Southard; Treasurer, Betty Chesebrough; Chairman of Commission of Faith, Carol Weaver; Senior Group Leader, Martha Dabney; Pioneer Group Leader, Dottie Todd; Chairman of Christian Works, Annie An; Chairman of Christian Growth, Mary Don Doty; Chairman of Christian Outreach, Molly Myles; Chairman of Christian Comradeship, Jackie Scott.

STAFF PARTY

"Ring out the old, ring in the new" — that's what the Staff of Student Publications did on Monday evening, April 21. The old Staff members, those who will not belong to the organization next year, gave a supper party to welcome the newly-elected members. To be properly attired, the new members were required to appear in all-green outfits. Truly, the various hues and shades of green which appeared would have made a son of the Emerald Isle dizzy!

The party was held at the Winsborough Building, which was decorated with newspaper cut-outs and furnished with a newspaper-covered throne.

When the guests arrived, they were sent off on a scavenger hunt with a newspaper theme, such articles as headlines and a sketch of the life of Horace Greeley being required. Upon their return, the "scavengers" were served "pigs in a blanket" (weiners wrapped in cheese and bread dough), salad sandwiches, green lemonade, green jello salad, cookies, green sherbet, and green mints. (Incidentally, green is one of the Staff colors.)

S. P. S. INSTALLATION

"May the sun shine brightly upon the pages of next year's DIALETTE and SUN DIAL"—these words reflect the spirit of the installation service for the 1949 - 50 S. P. S. executives which took place in Anderson Chapel Tuesday morning, April 26. Lib Miller, former Editor-in-chief, passed on to Frances Brown the key to the Staff room as a symbol of opportunity for service. Jane Holt, the new Business Manager, received a record book from Winnie Ferguson; and the new Advertising Managers, Winnie Ferguson and Jerry Ford, received receipt books from Marjorie Robertson and Martha Atkinson. The former Associate Editors, Frances Brown and Bitsy Phillips, presented DIALETTE "dummy sheets" and lists of assignments of articles to their successors, Betty Gibbs and Terry Kane. Jane Holt gave to Margery Washburn a book of quotations as a symbol of the Literary Editor's task of preparing material for the annual.

To close the program, the Staff members joined in singing their Staff song, (which, incidentally, was not new to any of them, since all the new members had previously served on the Staff.)

Preceding the installation, Miss Hoyt led the audience of college and high school students in a devotional and gave a news summary for the week.

COLLEGE CABINET

On Wednesday, April 6, the new members of the Montreat College Student Government Association took their oaths of office. Carey Lee Pratt, retiring president of the student body, gave Evan Wrenn the gavel of that office, challenging her, and the other new members, to the year of service which lies ahead and assuring her that with the help of God and of the student body, she could fill the office.

Evan accepted the office and, with the new cabinet members, took the pledge. Before the singing of the Alma Mater, the old cabinet filed off the stage, signifying the cession of their offices to their successors.

S. C. A. COUNCIL

In the traditional candlelight service, the new members of the Student Christian Association Council were installed April 10. Virginia Wood began by giving a classical account of the passing of the torch. She charged each new member to do her best to keep her torch burning during the coming year and to remember the words of God to Joshua, "Be strong and of good courage."

Betty Attwood, the new president of the S.C.A., received her light, and the other members of the new council followed. Dr. McGregor gave the charge to the new council and expressed his confidence in what they would do.

Both the old and new councils then led the procession to the lake where the candles were put afloat. The students formed a group on one side, and the councils formed one on the other to close the service with antiphonal hymn-singing.

S. C. A. BANQUET

The climax of the Student Christian Association activities by old council members came on Monday evening, April 11, at 5:30 p. m. At this time the annual banquet for old and new council members was held, and a delicious meal of fried chicken was served.

The banquet was held in the Home Economics lab, which was artistically decorated with fresh spring flowers. The theme, "Heralds of Christ," was carried out in the place cards, in the table decorations, in the programs, and in a duet sung by Dot Wright and Agnes Godert.

Among the honored guests were Misses DuBose, Hoyt, Watkins, Woodhouse, and Boardman. The latter gave an inspiring message to the new council. Miss Anderson, the S.C.A. sponser, delivered to the old council a message of appreciation and a few words of wisdom.
