

Varsity Bows To "M" Club

Thanks to those who covered the worst mud puddles on our soccer field with sawdust, we were able to have our Traditional Thanksgiving Soccer Game!! It was indeed a beautiful day, and as the crowd began to gather, a wonderful afternoon was inevitable. Cheerleaders were yelling and the teams were cheering too!

At last it was the hour to which we looked forward—2:30 P. M. The game began!! During the first quarter, no one scored, but at half-time the score was Varsity - 4, "M" Club - 1.

During the half-time the cheerleaders performed with several cheers and a formation of "M" for Montreat, and the Alma Mater was sung by all.

The college Varsity did not score in the second half, but the "M" Club shot their score up by six points, making the final score—Varsity - 4, "M" Club - 7. Both teams played well, and the teams and spectators showed a spirit of sportsmanship that could not be surpassed!

Varsity team was composed of members selected from the college soccer teams and was led by Frances Bridges. The opposing team were present members of the "M" Club and also alumnae who were formerly members of the "M" Club. Virginia Bean, president of the club, was captain of this team.

Visitors Warmly Welcomed

Recently the students of Montreat had the rare privilege of being hostesses for students of Sarah Laurence College in New York, a school for progressive education. The girls are making a field trip in Sociology, visiting various types of schools in the South.

Seated very informally in the lobby of Howerton, we all took part in an open discussion on three colleges. First, the visiting students asked us questions about Montreat—its purpose for the girls, the educational and social curriculum, and the rules and regulations of our college. Very much the same questions were asked of the students of Warren Wilson College who were also here with us as our guests. Then the students of Sarah Laurence told us about their school. and handbooks.

Many of us were vaguely familiar with the schools of progressive education, but now we have been enlightened and impressed very much.

They presented a book on their school for our library and also some literature and handbooks.

That Was Thanksgiving

A day when the air was crisp and cool
And the autumn sun shone bright;
A day when our eyes were all aglow,
And every heart was light:

That was Thanksgiving!

A day when we bowed our heads to thank
The God who gave us all;

A day when we thanked him for teachers
and friends—

For blessings large and small:

That was Thanksgiving!

A day when we greeted our parents or friends

Who come to see us here;
Or thought of their love (that the miles can't dim),

And these thoughts were very dear:

That was Thanksgiving!

A soccer game that was lots of fun—
Then a banquet crowned the day;
And as we wearily closed our eyes,
You might have heard us say:

That was Thanksgiving!
