

New Board Line-Up

Time for elections comes and everyone wonders who's going to be what in each organization. At last the day arrives and the members of the New Board are posted. President is Helen Duke, Mohawk and rising senior. Ann Broom is the new secretary and Alice Collins will serve as the treasurer. Ernestine Wiggins will assume the duties of vice-president. Those who are "heads-of-sports" are: softball, Ann Fenton; basketball, Ruth Wooten; tennis, June King; soccer, Joan Letson; volleyball, Ruby McCray; individual recreational sports, Virginia Blackburn. The co-hikers are two loyal Choctaws—Polly Brown and Kathy Mull.

Next year the tribes will be dissolved and the Blue and Gold teams will replace them. The representative for the Gold team is Julia Trayham, a rising sophomore, and the Blue team will be represented by a rising junior, Mary Jane Gillespie.

The student body has selected Jean Booth as the head cheer-leader for the ensuing year. That capable artist, Heide Funke, will continue to serve as publicity manager.

This is an excellent selection of girls with fine athletic skills and true sportsmanship. Good luck to you in '52 and '53! The student body is behind you 100%.

Presentation Of Athletic Awards

It was indeed a good day when athletic honors were given to six Montreat girls.

First Jeanette Nash, president of the AMA, made a short talk on sportsmanship and qualifications for numerals and letters. Then Carolyn Williams, Martha Get-singer, and Frances Curry were presented numerals indicating the year in which they will graduate from college. Rebecca Glenn and Helen Duke each received an "M". These honors are awarded in recognition of skills, sportsmanship and participa-

Tournament News

As always, Montreat girls are in the midst of individual sports tournaments when the DIALETTE goes to press. At present, the badminton tournament is well under way, but not far enough to give any results, yet.

Within the next few weeks the tennis tournaments will also be played.

Remember I promised to tell you who came out on top in volleyball? Well, this time we give three cheers for the Cherokees! They all pitched in and gave the other squaws a lot of stiff competition. Yes, to the volleyball champs—Cherokees—heartiest congratulations!

The main sport in the current lime-light, however, is softball. Although the tournament has not begun at the time of this writing, many grand practice games have been played. We have seen several home-runs and even a few "grand-slamers" (home runs with the bases loaded!). Yes, it is wonderful to get down to the ole ball field again. Let's really make the best of these games—they are the last ones in which the Hiwassees, Cherokees, Choctaws and Mohawks will compete you know! Then, "Enter, BLUE and GOLD!"

tion in all phases of the sports program.

After Jeanette had completed her distribution of these awards, Miss Smith, advisor to the AMA, came forward and presented to Jeanette Nash a chevron, the highest athletic honor which can be bestowed upon a "Montreater." The entire student body applauded, for no one deserved this award more than Jeanette. She not only has been president of the AMA, but she was chosen as a senior superlative to represent sportsmanship.

Congratulations — all of you! You deserve it.

SIGNING ANNUALS

Signing annuals
Really ended
The school year
In spite of protests
Of the administration.
Everybody
Just wrote and wrote
All over
Everybody's book,
Until
The annual advisor
Confided to Clementine
That she Often wondered Why
She bothered about
What went into the Annual
When all
Anybody wanted
Was
A place to write.
