

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR—
(From Page 3)

January 14, 1961

Dear Editor:

Montreat-Anderson College is a college filled with little kids. Every month the paper staff has the problem of trying to make the paper interesting for "children". Many good articles are discarded because the students of Montreat don't want serious, soul-searching articles.

Montreat is a haven, but it is to be used as a place to become mature without the many petty problems faced otherwise. The students are given an opportunity to face many problems and to think deeply about issues that are usually ignored. Children accept their parents' ideas and don't think for themselves. This is understandable; but when students of a college continue to be "vegetables" and suck up other peoples' ideas and opinions, it is a disgrace and something to be ashamed of, both by the students and the college.

Grow up! Think for yourself and become mature college students; otherwise, do not say that you are a college student.

This article is short so perhaps the "children" won't have to strain to read it.

SINGERS GO SOUTH—

Church. At 8:00 p.m. on February 1, they will be at the First Presbyterian Church in Plant City, Florida; February 2 it's on to beautiful Miami, where many of our fine students live. At 8:00 p.m. that night they will sing in the Miami Springs Presbyterian Church. They had better get a good night's sleep that night because on the next day, February 3, you have three performances to make. At 11:00 a.m. our singers will, YES, be on Channel 10 television in Miami, then at 1:50 p.m. they will be at the Miami Christian School, and at 8:00 p.m. at the Le Jeune Presbyterian Church in Miami. On February 4 for a rest they will only have one performance,

The Church College

I like colleges that nestle
In quiet little towns
And seem to offer something more
Than credits, caps, and gowns.

I like classes filled with friends
Who have a smile for me;
I don't like profs who know me as
Row 31 Seat 3.

I hate to meet a former prof's
Unrecognized stare;
I like the kind who knows your name
Your hopes, your love affair.

I like Church-college profs who teach
Likewise, inspired crusaders;
Who take the time to read your themes
And don't hire student graders.

I like colleges which strive to learn,
Years later, where you are;
Yes even tho' you've never been
A campus queen or star.

A mammoth institution holds
Within its office space,
Along with proof of my degree
A photo of my face.

The most it knows about me is
My city, birth and class.

I like my old Church-college best;
She doesn't think en masse.

She'll gaily cheer each grad's career
With faith that's optimistic;
To her a former student is
No musty old statistic.

that is at 8:00 p.m. at the Shenandoah Presbyterian Church in Miami. The next day, February 5, is another three performance one, first at 11:00 a.m. they will appear at the Miami Shores Presbyterian Church; at 3:30 p.m. at vespers service at this same church; then at 8:00 p.m. they will be at the City of North Miami Celebration. The next day, February 6, coming back home from the tour, they will sing their swan song in the Arlington Presbyterian Church of Jacksonville, Florida.

I'm sure all of the fortunate members of the singers who get to go will have a glorious time, and that all their hosts and hostesses will be wonderful, knowing those hospitable people of the great South Land.

Good-by and we will be looking forward to your return.

The Price of Happiness

What exactly is this thing called happiness? Where can it be found, and what is the price of it? These are questions I am sure each of us has asked ourselves thousands of times. Happiness is a state of mind. It can be found in doing that little something extra for someone—a kind word of warmth to the person who looks downhearted or a piece of candy for the child who has tried very hard. Happiness can be found in success, when it is really deserved. Happiness can really be found anywhere. It can not be bought with dollars and cents, it is absolutely free. Why don't you take a little, for a little can go a long, long way.
