

ON FAILURES

Our honor system states that "The failure of one person to live honorably is in part the failure of all." From the many cases that have come before S.G.A. cabinet this year, we'd say somebody has really failed.

We would really like to say that this hasn't been our fault--but it has. When one member of our family makes the mistake of stealing, cheating or any dishonorable act, we fail with him when we don't make an honest effort to help our brother realize his mistake. This doesn't mean we should head for the Dean to report every infraction, but rather we should try to help our friend realize his mistake. If these mistakes persist and our striving seem in vain, then we are obligated to seek help for him from a more influential source.

We will never be able to separate ourselves from other people anywhere in life and we can't separate ourselves here. Here in our Montreat family we each have a tremendous responsibility---to grow together into a useful and honest life.

STAFF

The Dialette is the official publication of the students of Montreat-Anderson College and is published bi-monthly at Montreat, North Carolina

Editor--John Hall

Assistant Editor--Dot Randall News Editor--Peggy Highnote
Art Editor--Libby Rule

Columnists--Fine Arts-Diane Zitzman; Humor-Maria Haubrick;
Religion-Richard Kennedy; Social-Garry Brewer; Sports (Men)
Mike Clark, (Women) Susan Willenbrock.

Reporters--Neely Barry, Cathy Digges, Phil Ramsey, Carolyn Willis, Al Weisiger.

Typists--Peggy Highnote, Carolyne Mc Mahan, Chip Reel

Sponsor--Miss Elizabeth Maxwell

VICTORY

(Continued from Page One)
charity tosses and Billings one, knotting the score at 54-54.

With the score tied 57-57 and 26 seconds remaining Patrick hit a jump shot from the top of the key that put Montreat ahead to stay. Billings sank four straight free throws in the final 20 seconds to seal the win.

Leading the scoring for the Cavaliers was Dan Rabon with 15 points. Billings added 14 and Patrick 13. Russell Shealy hauled in 21 rebounds,

S. G. A. CABINET INVOLVED IN DISCIPLINARY CASES

(The following is beginning of a series of articles telling you, the members of the S. G. A., exactly what goes on in cabinet. It is hoped that these articles will strengthen your support of your Student Government and encourage you to make your desires known to Cabinet.)

Monday night the cabinet of the Student Government Association met for the first session during second semester.

Three cases referred to the administration immediately before and during exams were reviewed. They were concerned with off-campus drinking, cheating in the classroom, and having beer on campus.

Two cases--1) destruction of property and 2) stealing--were brought before cabinet. No decision was made.

In accord with the rules set forth in the college handbook, two vacancies on cabinet were filled. Ingrid Wallin was named College Hall President, and Leisa Heidelberg was named Freshman Representative.

Religion is not an intelligence test, but a faith. Id.

the most any player has got in a single game this season. Rabon and Patrick also did a fine job of rebounding.