

SPORTS

(Continued from page 1)

plague the Cavaliers. Mike M a n o s, who held Mitchell's leading scorer to one lone point, fouled out with 14:30 left and Clark picked up his fourth foul. B u t reserves Steve Moody and David Peele came in and played as though they had started all season long.

Mitchell could only get within five points of the Cavaliers, in the second half.

In the first half Montreat hit a sizzling 55 of their shots from the floor. For the game, they hit on 30 out of 60 shoots for 50 . From the foul line the Cavaliers hit 80 , connecting on 17 o u t of 21 attempts.

Following R a b o n in the scoring column were Clark with 19 points and Shealy with 18. Shealy pulled down 14 rebounds while Don Patrick and Rabon hauled in 11 and 10 respectively.

The victory was truly a team victory.

Linwood Orenduff, who missed the last two games, will return to action against Kings. Orenduff is averaging 14.6 points a game.

We are haunted by an ideal life, and it is because we have within us the beginning and the possibility of it.

Phillips Brooks

Self-trust is the first secret of success.

Emerson

The world is a divine dream, from which we may presently awake to the glories of certainties of day.

Emerson

WAYS TO IMPROVE GIRLS PLUCK OWLS INTELLECTUAL CLIMATE NOTED

The following are some suggestions that were made by our faculty as to ways of improving the intellectual climate on our campus. What suggestions do you have?

Miss Dunn suggested "student debated, faculty debated and student-faculty debated. She also suggested that some outside speaker be brought in for a monthly discussion that would be attended by students on a voluntary basis."

Mr. Russell Wilson noted that "if we (the faculty) are not intellectually stimulated we cannot expect the students to be. We should become more involved in ideas rather than things and events."

Miss Grier suggested that the "interchange of ideas with other colleges, for example, Asheville-Biltmore, Mars Hill, and others through newspapers and clubs be increased."

Miss Wilson suggested "utilizing sources for discussions, admissions standards raised, enthusiasm of professors and preparation for class gets response, and student participation encourages interest."

Mrs. Broughton suggested some "involvement and enthusiasm in the field would create excitement--classroom should be stimulating."

M i s s Williams suggested that "we read things they (students) suggest to us."

Dr. Monroe suggested that the "faculty keep on the frontier of their disciplines."

The Cavalietts evened the score with the Warren Wilson girls as they defeated them 37-32 on Thursday, February 17th. The first time the two teams met, Warren Wilson prevailed 36-13.

The Warren Wilson girls had high hopes of making it two wins in a row over the Montreat girls. This was evident as they went ahead early in the first period. Then Frankie Porter and Ann Boyd began to hit and it was a different story. The Cavalietts went into the halftime break with a slim lead.

In the second half Gini Campbell and Beebe Morgan took over the scoring for the Montreat girls and it was all over for the Warren Wilson girls.

Becky Ray played a tremendous defensive game as did Carroll Baker.

Leading scorer was Porter with 13 points followed by Campbell with 12. O t h e r s scoring were Boyd 8, and Morgan 4. Campbell also did a good job of rebounding.

Miss Bartlett, the girl's coach, stated, "I was very proud of the team and it was a team victory all the way."

People are a l w a y s blaming their circumstances for what they are. I don't believe in circumstances. The people who get on in this world are the people who get up and look for the circumstances they want, and, if they can't find them, make them.

George Bernard Shaw