MONTREAT-ANDERSON COLLEGE

Montreat Leaders Extend Welcome

DR. D. M. MONROE

Academic Dean

I welcome you to Montreat-Anderson College with certain very definite hopes for you and for the college. In a meeting I attended recently, one speaker observed that college is the first chance for students to be treated as adults, and the last chance for them to get a liberal education. I welcome you to the college with the hope that you will find it a rewarding entrance into the adult world, a world of both freedom and responsibility, a world that may not turn out to be as glamerous as you had expected, but one with many rewards to accompany the hard knocks. I also welcome you to the college in hope that you will find here some of the rich rewards of liberal education. I hope our faculty will be able to help you see more of what the world is becoming, and meaning, more of who you are, and what you can become, and more of how you fit into the complex pattern of what is transpiring today. They will be attempting to help you utilize all the great thinkers of all times, the historians, the sociologists, the artists, the scientists, the philosophers, the religious thinkers, etc., to help you understand yourself and your world more clearly. I hope you and we will find satisfaction in this venture.

217 AMERICANS REPORTED KILLED IN ACTION IN VIETNAM last week. . . a slightly higher figure than the average during the past few months.

SEVERAL BUILDINGS DAMAGED in pre-dawn blast in the 'Little Havana' section of Miami. . . no injuries reported.

DR. C. GRIER DAVIS

President

Montreat extends a most cordial welcome. We have been making preparation for your coming.

Montreat-Anderson Hall was completed in June. The contract has been signed and ground has been broken for the new science building.

The faculty has been on a retreat to prepare for a year of instruction. The officers and leaders of the student body came early to get everything ready for you.

All of us are prepared to do everything which will make this a happy and rewarding year for you.

SGA President

CHARLIE LANCE

On behalf of the officers of the Student Government Association, I would like to welcome all new and returning students and to assure you that we are all very eager to do our best this year for the students and the College. We also realize that in order to get the most from our college experience, we must all work together--students, Student Government, faculty and administration. I feel strongly that if the goal of cooperation is achieved all other significant benefits will follow.

There is much to be gained at Montreat, more than can be put in words, but the only way Montreat can serve you is for you to give it a chance.

College Chaplain

REV. CALVIN THIELMAN

It is my privilege to serve you as chaplain of the college, and as the minister of the Montreat Church. I would like to come to know you personally, and I hope that if I may ever be of any assistance to you as a counselor, pastor, or just a friend, that you can call on me. My office is located in the back of Gaither chapel (behind the organ), and I should be available to you this year almost anytime except Thursday or Saturday morning.

I hope that you will plan to attend our college-age Sunday School group. We call this "The Coffee Class." As a reward for getting up early, you will receive free coffee and doughnuts. This class meets every Sunday morning at 9:30 in Moore Center. It is taught by Mrs. Billy Graham. The book she will be teaching this year is a special study of the Gospel of John called Tell It Like It Is. This class is especially designed for students of all denominations, so whether you are Methodist, Baptist, Episcopal or anything else, you are welcome. You already know about church at 11:00 A.M. We have a mid-week prayer service that traditionally has been sponsored in cooperation with the Student Christian Association. It begins at 7:15 P.M. every Wednesday evening, and stops promptly at 8:00. This is a time of prayer, the singing of hymns, and a brief devotional study from the Bible. We hope you will attend.
