

side you a brother--without using the term loosely--no matter what he looks like. Why should a person's life conflict with your own on such really insignificant issues as creed, color, or appearance?

After all, in the words of Lennon and McCartney: "I am he, as you are he, as you are me, / as you are we, and we are all together."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR
GENERAL POLICY REVISION

The revision of the general policy which was made on May 23 is of the most serious nature. A Christian education cannot be centered in one area. To grow in knowledge as well as in the grace of God requires exposure to all aspects of worldly living. The product of a narrow education is a narrow man, unequipped to deal with both the good and bad in life.

Therefore, it is my feeling that the revision of the general policy is unwise, and should under no circumstances be accepted by the Student Government Association.

KY CANCELS PLANS TO ATTEND WAR RALLY
(News Analysis)

It was announced on 4 September that Vice-President Ky of South Vietnam would appear at the Victory in Vietnam Rally to be held in Washington on 3 October.

Ky's decision sent the Nixon Administration into something approaching a fit, inasmuch as it seemed to some to contradict the spirit if not the letter of the President's "peace plan" for Southeast Asia. Both Ky and Rev. Carl McIntire, the demonstration's sponsor, later issued statements reaffirming the initially announced plans, in spite of widely reported Administration pressure on Ky to change his mind.

Ky announced yesterday on the CBS-TV show FACE THE NATION that he would not appear at the Rally. The Vice-President said "It was because my presence (in Washington) might not have helped the very harrassed cause of Vietnam that I decided to postpone my voyage." Ky denied reports that he had been subjected to Nixon Administration pressure to cancel his visit. He did say that he would visit the United States "within the next few days," although the purpose of such a trip is unclear at this time.

Meanwhile, Rev. McIntire had arrived in Paris in what was widely viewed as a last-ditch attempt to persuade Ky to change his mind.

SCRANTON REPORT RELEASED
(News Analysis)

The Report of the Commission on Campus Unrest was given to the President on Saturday night by Commission Chairman William Scranton. In a News conference, Scranton said that "It is imperative that the President bring us together before more lives are lost and more property is destroyed and more universities are disrupted."

The report accuses some law-enforcement officers of using "unwarranted harshness and force in seeking to control disorder." It also charges that some college administrators were too lenient in dealing with students who participated in violent disruptions. In response to a question on Vice-President Agnew's various comments on students, Mr. Scranton stated that making political issues of hair styles and modes of dress are "rather infantile and kindergartenish."

The report continues by blaming all levels of government for the current college crisis. The actions and inactions of local, state, and federal governments are shown to be contributors to the crisis. Trigger-happy law officers and student terrorists are both branded as criminals.

The Commission urges the President to assert his moral leadership as an aid to achieving understanding between opposing factions. Mr. Scranton said at the news conference that "Up to now--since the episodes of this spring--there has not been this kind of leadership to bring about the reconciliation that we have been talking about."

The full text of the report is scheduled for release early this week.

BAYONETTED NEW MEXICANS SUE STATE OFFICIALS AND NATIONAL GUARD

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M.--(CPS)--Six persons who say they were bayoneted by National Guardsmen last May 8 on the campus of the University of New Mexico are suing state and National Guard officials for more than $1 million.

Defendants in the suit who have filed a motion to dismiss the claims, are New Mexico Governor David Cargo, State Adjutant General John Jolly, State Police Chief Martin Vigil, and several officers and members of the New Mexico National Guard. A hearing on the motion to dismiss is not expected until sometime in October.

The plaintiffs are part of a group of a dozen or more persons treated for stab wounds in Albuquerque hospitals the evening of May 8 after National Guard members maneuvered about the campus with unsheathed bayonets. The motion for dismissal says injuries inflicted by Guardsmen, if there were any, "were provoked by plaintiffs who assumed the risk of such injuries."

A number of the wounds were inflicted from the rear. The most seriously injured was John Dressman, a Sant Fe school teacher who received a deep stab in the back of the thigh. He still has trouble walking.

The motion for dismissal holds that none of the defendants ordered the stabbing, and are therefore not responsible. The Guardsmen were merely assisting the State Police and are not responsible, the motion holds. A hearing on the motion to dismiss is expected in October.
