

Incident to the
thirty-seven poin
dered Federal agenci
pollution, took im
vent oil pollut occurs, and oline, and has gain.

MATURITY is perseverance, the ability to sweat out a project or a situation in spite of opposition or discouraging setbacks.

MATURITY is unselfishness—responding to the needs of others, often at the expense of one's own desires or wishes.

MATURITY is the capacity to face unpleasantness and frustration, discomfort and defeat, without complaint or collapse.

MATURITY is humility. It is being big enough to say, "I was wrong." And, when right, the mature person need not say, "I told you so."

MATURITY is the ability to make a decision and stand by it. The immature spend their lives exploring endless possibilities, then do nothing.

MATURITY means dependability, keeping one's word, coming through in the crisis. The immature are masters of the alibi—confused and disorganized. Their lives are a maze of broken promises, former friends, unfinished business and good intentions which never materialize.

MATURITY is the art of living in peace with that which we cannot change.

"Come together, people of the world."

STEPHEN EDWARD GARVIN

* * *

ONE PICTURE IS WORTH TEN THOUSAND WORDS

One picture is worth ten thousand words. But I don't believe it!

And neither do companies like Sealy, General Electric, Volkswagen, General Foods, and a host of others who spend $30,000 a page and upwards to see that from one-third to one-half of every magazine that comes to my house is filled with "pictures."

Or do they?

Sears sends me more than forty sales flyers, with pictures, and two catalogues

Outdoor Advertising Company, which confronts me with eighty "pictures" in a twenty-mile drive, doesn't believe it.

Or does it?

Television advertisers who bombard me with as many as forty "pictures" in an hour's viewing time can't believe it.

And neither do smut peddlers!

Or do they?

MRS. W.T. HODGE
(Biology Lab Instructor)

* * *

PUT IT IN WRITING

It has come to my attention that the name THE NEWSPAPER is not satisfactory to my fellow students. Every time a new issue is published, the complaints begin. Yet, very little has been done to try to change the name.

Every week, the paper is filled with articles written by the same people. My hat is off to those people. They are the ones who care about our school. They are the ones who are not afraid to express their opinions.

THE NEWSPAPER is an ideal opportunity to let your feelings be known. Don't be afraid of the thoughts your friends will have. You may find out that they are in complete agreement with you and your ideas.

If you have something to say, put it in writing!

ESTHER HELMBOLD

INDUSTRIES AND ENVIRONMENTAL CONTROL

(News Analysis)

In its first Annual Report, the Council on Environmental Quality said that "historians may one day call 1970 the year of the environment."

Few persons would quarrel with that evaluation because, with the "Earth Day" observance and the enactment of significant new legislation, 1970 has been memorable. The Congress has adopted landmark legislation such as the National Environmental Policy Act and the Water Quality Improvement Act, improved environmental considerations in the Airport and Airway Act, and soon may approve of strengthening changes to existing laws on