

The key to
SPEED READING
 is an Overdue library
 book.

Many of you are often wondering what possible news could come from the library; that firm, stable institute of learning at Montreat. Well, if you think nothing new happens in the Library, you're absolutely right!!! No, really, we have several new student aids working this semester. Greg Stewart and Bill Buchanan are in Audio Visuals, and Terry Brown is serving as Library Assistant. Mike Hayes left to become a hall counselor and Mitchell Parker works in the new dark room in the Science Building.

Now when you walk into the glass foyer of the Library you might think it is a florists or that you are in the tropics, but alas, no, still the same Library; but now we have a potted tree to add color, beauty, oxygen, and shedding leaves to our L. Nelson Bell Library. It's name is familiar to all of us as "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn."

Last but not least, Mrs. Helen Medford Cartwright presented to the library, six books written by her father, W. Clark Medford.

These books, dealing with Western North Carolina, and illustrated by Mrs. Cartwright are a welcome addition to the library. Mr. Medford, now 91 years old, was present for the presentation. Mrs. Cartwright is well known for her work with retarded children in Western North Carolina. Thank you, Mrs. Cartwright.

Thus concludes another chapter of "As the Library Churns," and remember that above all, "silence IS golden."

The week of January 21st, our stable institute of learning did an audio visual taping of Dr. Newton and one of his Bible classes. While in the process of taping, a swinging microphone struck poor John Montgomery in the head! (Maybe they were trying to tell him something.)

For the last several weeks before Christmas, one could admire "Mike Sherrel" originals in our foyer. Pottery and brass belt buckles of all shapes and kinds were for sale. Now, one can admire the Drama projects built by students to be miniature stages of plays. Two in particular which need special recognition are Phil Thrift's and Lynn VanArsdale's, but all are excellent.

WHAT THEY'RE READING ON CAMPUSES

	Last Month
1. I'm OK, You're OK: A Practical Guide to Transactional Analysis, by Thomas A. Harris	1
2. Chariots of the Gods? by Erich Von Daniken	3
3. The Best and the Brightest, by David Halberstam	5
4. Our Bodies, Our Selves, by Boston Women's Health Book Collective	4
5. Alistair Cooke's America, by Alistair Cooke	9
6. Journey to Ixtlan, by Carlos Castaneda	2
7. The Joy of Sex, by Alex Comfort	8
8. Jonathan Livingston Seagull, by Richard Bach	7
9. A Separate Reality, by Carlos Castaneda	10
10. The Making of the President, 1972, by Theodore H. White	