

New Head Residents Invade

By Marlene Berry

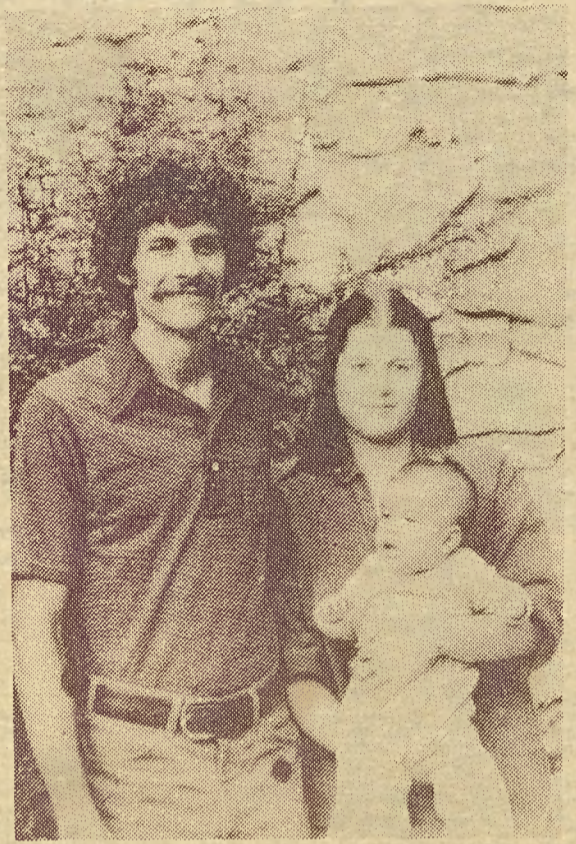

This year, M-AC has new Head Residents in three of the dorms. Rebecca Mooneyhan has taken over the position of Head Resident at Groseclose Dorm. Along with that responsibility, Miss Mooneyhan will be doing secretarial work and will be helping with tutoring. She has a masters degree from the University of North Carolina in Guidance and Counseling.

Davis Dorm's new Head Resident is Bryan Pillsbury. Mr. Pillsbury is also the new Soccer Coach. After attending M-AC, he received a BS from Gordon College in Psychology and at the moment is working toward a masters in Business. His wife, Paige, and their daughter, Rachel, are also joining the M-AC family.

The new Head Resident of Howerton Dorm and the new Coordinator of Housing is Edward Blanchard, another former M-AC student. He comes to M-AC with a double major in Christian Education and Biblical Studies from Wheaton College. He is joined here by his wife, Patricia.

Head Resident, Groseclose, Rebecca Mooneyhan.

Head Residents, Davis, Brian and Paige Pillsbury.

Assistant Head Resident, M-A Hall, Julia Roberts.

Head Residents, Howerton, Eddie and Patricia Blanchard.

Your Turn. . .

By Kim Knight

As a part of our new student column, we asked several Freshmen, "Why they picked Montreat-Anderson College, and how did they like it so far?"

Helen Meek — I came to Montreat because I was interested in attending a small Christian school. Montreat was highly recommended by several people I respect. I really enjoy the closeness with the other students and faculty. I'm glad I came and consider it one of the wisest decisions the Lord and I have ever made.

Mark Ownbey — I picked Montreat because I like the Christian atmosphere, and the scenery around this area. So far it has been really great.

Dwayne Maddox — I picked Montreat-Anderson College because of the many opportunities it has for me. I'm going after my Bachelor in Arts Degree and Montreat can give me this chance. Montreat has already been a good experience, and I enjoy it here.

Janet Shockey — I chose Montreat as the college I wanted to attend because of the importance placed on Christ. I was seeking to grow in my relationship with my Savior. The mountains surrounding Montreat are one of the many things that show God's love for me. I've found since I've been here the genuine love of Christian friends. I am growing not only with my relationship with the Lord, but with friendships with fellow brothers and sisters. If I described Montreat in one word, it would be "great."

Tony Marley — Montreat has the kind of atmosphere that a person needs to grow and mature, spiritually and physically. The people here are friendly and the relationship between God and the students is great. These past few weeks have show me these things, and I hope the rest of my stay is as pleasant.

Cindy Wilhelm — The reason for my attending Montreat is because of the Christian atmosphere, and all the love and warmth that it holds. So far I love it here.

Mike Yarbrough — I chose to come to Montreat because I wanted a college centered around the love of Christ. I felt a great need to be around Christian friends to help me to grow spiritually. I also liked the college because of its size. It is much easier to become involved and take part in activities. I was also attracted to Montreat because of its natural beauty. So far I really love Montreat. I feel that it is where I belong.

Jeff Zimmerman — I came to Montreat for several specific reasons. My oldest brother is an alumni, and he really recommended the school highly. During the consideration of which college to attend, I heard Montreat had a good baseball program, which is highly suitable for a junior college. My stay at Montreat has been rather quiet. The study hours, I think, are terrific. These hours give you a great opportunity to stay on top of things. There could be more social events going on around campus, and could be more organized in that aspect. To achieve this, everyone needs to participate.

Richey Dunn — Montreat-Anderson, I came because it was small, co-ed, and located in the mountains. Everyone cares about you and at Something I missed in Virginia! no time are you completely lost. I

ALETHEIA

Montreat-Anderson College
Montreat, NC 28757

Editor-in-Chief
Karen Oglesby

Layout Editor
Kim Knight

Photography Editor
Cindy Witte

Reporters
Bobby Stone
Marcia West
Lee Harwood
Lynn Morris
Mick Helm
Susan Teague

Adviser
Dr. Rich Gray
Feature Editor
Marlene Berry

Photographers
Chris Durrance
Greg Hasek
Mark Trippi
David Nicolaysen

News Services
MA Graphics & Typesetting
Mountain Media, Inc.