

Montreat Massacres Milligan

by John Van Dyke

The Cavalier's soccer season was kicked off to an excellent start with a 3-0 win over Milligan College last Saturday. The weather was perfect for a soccer game. The clouds hung low over the mountains that are visible from the new soccer field. There was a cool breeze that refreshed the team during the arduous struggle.

Although Milligan did not propose as much of a challenge as the team thought, it was a good work out for them, especially the defense. This was really the first chance for the defense to work together against opposition. They were the concentration of last week's practices in order to prepare for the game.

The Cavaliers were in control of the game during both halves, yet they were not able to put the ball in the back of the net as much as they wanted. Finally, towards the end of the first half, Russ DeLong (right wing), one of the team's captains, pushed the ball past the goal keeper as he frantically fumbled for it through numerous pairs of kicking feet.

The team was confident going into the second half, because everyone was in such good shape. After downing some water and receiving some quick words from the coach, they were refreshed and ready to go. In the second half, two more goals were scored for MAC. The first was a beautiful bicycle kick into the top left-hand corner of the goal made by Scott Farrington of Nassau, Bahamas. The second was made by an ailing Scott Cox, of Miami, Fla. Scott's goal was a simple shot to the right corner of the goal, but it was a beautiful shot. The team finished out the game with control, finesse and, most importantly, class!

Coach Bryan Pillsbury was especially anticipating this game, because it was the first game to be played on the new athletic field. Pillsbury spent most of his time this summer getting the field in shape and is to be greatly congratulated. The field was said to have cost the school well over $350,000.00.

"Scott Farrington discovers just how painful an earring can be."

Sports For Everyone

Intramurals...a big word to describe a great sports program for the entire student body! Do you realize that two-thirds of the Montreat-Anderson students will participate in at least one sport? According to Jake Wetzell, director, flag football competition for guys and gals has just started, and the turnout is terrific. Jake is assisted by two work/study students who help organize and officiate the games; collectively, they are really encouraged by the good participation.

Starting after fall break, intramural co-ed volleyball will begin. Incidentally, folks, this is the biggest sport! After Christmas, basketball and floor hockey will be available for both guys and gals. With spring fever will come softball. The men and women will team up with other floors to stage some hearty competition. In most cases, intramural sports are played between floors. Practice is not required, but some teams find it enjoyable.

Only a few students can play varsity athletics, but everybody can play intramurals! Take Jake Wetzell's advice,

"Don't worry about how good you are. Just come and have a good time. It's a great release of energy after being in class all day long, so get involved. You'll enjoy it, make some friends and feel better."

Lady Cavaliers in Action

The Lady Cavaliers are a lively bunch of freshman and sophomore girls who spike and set up for fun! Yes, the Lady Cavaliers compose the Montreat-Anderson intercollegiate volleyball team. The team consists of 11 girls and one manager with Miss Anne Gant as coach. Captains have not yet been elected for the new season, but the two returning sophomores, April Irving and Penzy Penzkofer, are filling the positions now.

Miss Gant described the offense as aggressive and hard-hitting. The four forwards make some exciting spikes and the two setters possess fine setting abilities.

The defense, however, needs a little work. Nevertheless, she feels the defense will show up very well against their opponents. In their scrimmage against Mars Hill last Monday, the girls were composed and played well together. Indeed, the main focus of practices is teamwork.

The Ladies will be hitting the Montreat-

Anderson court against King College Thursday, September 16 at 6:00. The following evening at the same time the gals will be opposing North Greenville. According to Miss Gant, "a team is as good as its supporters. We work hard and put in a lot of time to represent the college and its student body, and we encourage everyone to support your representatives and come to our games. We promise exciting play and some big hitting."
