Complete Stats for First Year of NAIA Play

By Phil Parker

Great things happened this year for the Kickin' Cavs as their first year at NAIA level rolled to a stop on Halloween. Their dramatic loss to Tennessee Temple in overtime proved that their competitiveness never faded throughout the season. The loss gave the Cavs an overall record of 7 wins and 8 losses. "Winning seven games in our first year at NAIA level is excellent for any team," says Coach Steve Barrett. "Our program is growing and I am already in the process of recruiting for next year," continues Barrett.

Statistically, the Cavs out shot their opponents 286 to 277, which is an average of about 19 shots per game by the Cavs. The Cavs had 41 total goals and allowed in a total of 53. Coach Barrett said that all the players had excellent showings with outstanding performances by Mustafa Akaskal, Akihiro Suzuki, Massamba Fall, and an excellent freshman performance by Eric Hudson. Mustafa led the team with 14 goals and 10 assists, followed by Akihiro with 6 goals and 7 assists, and Massamba had 8 goals and 2 assists. Eric Hudson, Jason Jenkins, and George Tilley, all freshmen, each had 2 goals and 2 assists. Phil Lomac, also a freshman, scored 3 goals and had 3 assists. Eric Hudson, Jason Jenkins, and George Tilley combined for a total of 44 shots on goal. Tommy Wallace added with 24 shots on goal. As goalkeeper, Quent Johnson racked up 102 saves, an average of about 7 saves a game, not to mention an average of about 12 elbows per game that he dished out to the opposition. Other great performances came from Josh White, Josh Hannon, Mike Wallin, Eric Brown, and Jason Edwards. Hannon started 12 games as a freshman and had a great showing in the backfield.

Overall, the Cavs had a great season, competing at a higher level than last year and the only way to look is forward. With a bulk of the team returning to play next year, the Cavs can go even farther than

Hostels Offer Inexpensive Ski Vacations

Washington, D.C. - Skiers can enjoy some of the finest skiing in the USA without paying ski resort prices. American Youth Hostels has nearly 50 hostels, from Alaska to Vermont, located near major downhill and cross-country ski areas.

Hostels are inexpensive accommodations for travelers of all ages providing dormitory-style bedrooms with separate quarters for males and females. Most have fully equipped self-service kitchens, dining areas and common rooms for relaxing and meeting other travelers from around the world, and a host of unexpected amenities from special programs to hot tubs.

World-famous places such as Squaw Valley, Aspen, Snowmass, Telluride, Silver Mountain, and more all have AYH hostels located nearby.

Some offer special amenities for the skier. The Hilton Creek International AYH-Hostel, located in California's spectacular eastern this year. Coach Barrett says that, "Our program is growing. This year we competed, next year we're going to win. That's the bottom line." All the players would like to thank the students, faculty, and staff for supporting them in this year's landmark season of excellent soccer.

Sierra Nevada Mountains, has an "Introduction to Ski Touring Program." The hostel also has cross-country ski equipment for rent and a hot tub to soak away the aches and pains.

Colorado has six AYH facilities located near some of USA's most famous ski resorts. Some have ski storage, a hot tub or sauna, and fireplaces. The Winter Park AYH-Hostel is right at the Winter Park Mary Jane Ski Area with 106 trails and 19 ski lifts. Right out the hostel's back door are miles of groomed cross-country ski trails. Plus, the hostel is convenient to all busses and trains.

American Youth Hostels is a not-for-profit corporation and a member of the International Youth Hostel Federation (IYHF) which maintains 6,000 hostels in 70 countries -- the largest network of accommodations in the world. AYH promotes international understanding through its network of 200 hostels in the USA and its educational travel programs.

An Editorial...

To Disappointed Bush Fans

By Phil Parker

With this year's election finally over, Thank God, I can't help but sit back and smile at all the Bush fans so deeply disappointed at his loss. Face it people, Bill Clinton is your new President, whether you like it or not. As a Clinton supporter -- one of the very few here on campus -- I have been hearing some very negative and somewhat vulgar remarks from some of the students. I would like to clue you people in on a few things. The events in this country that are happening before our very eyes are only going to get worse before they get better, regardless of who is in office. Just a few suggestions for all the disappointed Bush fanatics: swallow your pride and support the new president. Maybe everything won't be perfect but how could you possibly expect any one person to fix the mess we're in? Clinton does have a lot of radical ideas but I think that's what our country needs. A new leader with new ideas. I mean look around you (please, look beyond Montreat and Black Mountain); this country has developed into a radically changing place; new technologies and a diversity of people that are demanding a change. So please, stop the stupid cut-downs about Clinton and GET ON WITH YOUR LIFE! Just always keep your mind open and stop thinking so monotonously.

For a trial period of two weeks
The Belk Campus Center
will be open until 2:00 a.m.
