

Tough Week For The Cavs

Face Three Strongest Teams In Conference

By Matt Haney

The Cavs opened this past week on the road traveling to Virginia Intermont, to face the #1 team in the Tennessee Valley Athletic Conference.

Virginia Intermont dominated all aspects of the game, winning 100-64. Brad Gabriel summed the game up like this, "They played their best game of the season, while we took ourselves out of the game."

Returning to the McAlister Gym this past Thursday, the Cavs hoped to avenge their defeat with a win over, Milligan, the #3 team in the conference.

They played the visitors tough for the first ten minutes leading 17-16 as both teams struggled offensively. But before the half ended, Milligan had forged ahead, taking a 42 to 36 lead into the locker room.

For the first 5 minutes of the second half, the Cavs struggled back to bring the score to 49-51. Milligan called time out, regrouped, then played solid for the rest of the game.

The Cavs kept it close, only being down three points with 1:11 left. But on a night when both squads played exceptional games, only one team could win, and that team was Milligan, with a final score of 76-65.

To end a grueling week, the Cavs had to face Alice Lloyd, #2 in the TVAC. Alice Lloyd entered the Cavs house and before you could turn around had a 20-7 lead. For the rest of the half the Cavs struggled to deal with their opponent's defense, committing turnover after turnover. At the half Alice Lloyd had a dominating lead of 48-31.

Brad Gabriel turned it around early in the second half, hitting 11 points in the first 6 minutes bringing the Cavs back to within 15. Then Brian Levering hit 6 straight, and the comeback was on. The Cavs managed to trim the deficit to 9 points, 70-61 before Alice Lloyd woke up and began to play like conference leaders. For the rest of the game they held the Cavs off and took home an 86-77 victory.

Montreat-Anderson began the week, solidly holding the #4 seat in the TVAC, with Bryan College a distant 5th. With 3 losses the standings are much closer. Although the Cavs are going to make the district play-offs, they need to bring home a victory from tonight's game with King College if they want to host the 1st game in the "Cavs' House" They also need victories Thursday in "The Cavs' House" against TN-Wesleyan at 7:30pm, and Saturday at Bluefield.

Lady Cavs Suffer Loss

By Kathryn Letterman

On Saturday, February 6, 1993, the Lady Cavaliers Basketball Team was defeated by Alice Lloyd by a final score of 64-53.

The Lady Cavs started out strong in the first half. They played aggressively, making a total of thirty-six shots. Amy Baker led in the scoring with a total of sixteen. Baker scored eleven of her fourteen first half points in the first seven minutes of the game.

Traci Haynes put the pressure on Alice Lloyd throughout the entire game, allowing the Lady Cavs to score points. Haynes, scoring a total of nine, together with Jennifer Hobbs, scoring a total of ten, aided the team's effort.

Although the Cavs began playing the game well, they were out-played by Alice Lloyd, who began taking the lead in the last nine minutes of the game. Alice Lloyd blocked many of the Ladies' passes and would not allow them inside. The Lady Cavs could not pull it together and lost the game by eleven points.

On Thursday, February 11, 1993, the Lady Cavs will face Tennessee Wesleyan at 5:30pm at McAlister Gym. The Ladies were defeated by Tennessee Wesleyan earlier in the season by a margin of twenty-six points. This should be a challenging game for the Lady Cavs to win.

On Saturday, February 13, 1993, the Ladies will travel to Virginia to battle Bluefield College. This will be the first time the Lady Cavs have played Bluefield this semester.

Valentine's Day

(ZPS) This holiday was originally instituted to honor two martyrs of the early Christian church. During the reign of Emperor Claudius II, a priest and physician named Valentine was beaten and beheaded outside of Rome, Italy on February 14, 269 AD. Later the Bishop of Terni, also named Valentine, was beheaded for his faith. Read more about the martyrs of the Christian Church in Fox's Book of Martyrs, by W.B. Forbush, Editor (Zondervan Publishing House, 1967). Available at your local Christian bookstore or by calling 1-800-727-3480.
