

FROM THE EDITOR

Hey everyone.

What's up?

Welcome to the 2011 Whetstone. We are so glad to have you. Look around. Browse. Make yourselves comfortable. Stay for as long or as short as you like.

The beauty of a paper like this is that it waits for you. It is quite patient. Pick it up, put it down, leave for a week, come back, and it will behave as if you never even left. You could even spit on it right now and it wouldn't mind. Go ahead, hawk a big loogie right into the middle of this paragraph. The paper would forgive you, but you would probably feel like a jerk, wouldn't you?

This issue's reader letter of the month was sent in by Jimmy Saturn from Oglethorpe:

Dear Mr. Editor,

First of all, let me say that I am a big fan. I read your paper even more than the Oglethorpe Times, and that's saying something (we have a sweet espresso machine).

I have a personal question to ask of you though, since you seem like the kind of guy a bro can trust about such things. Are sweater vests going out of style, or no? Because I have been wearing them a LOT lately, and I can't seem to get a date, not even with a chimpanzee. I need your response about this ASAP. Thank you.

- Jimmy.

Well, Jimmy. Sweater vests are and always will be in style. I think your problem lies elsewhere. Have you been eating bacon regularly? That's a crucial element in attracting females.
