OH CRAP!
-Nathan Adams

POTTY TALK!

I wouldn't have had nearly as much concern if I'd been prepared first.
-Laura Davidson

I had a conversation this morning about how annoying it is when the person to use up the toilet paper doesn't replace the roll. Of course, no one notices until they actually need the toilet paper. Then what do you do?

STUDENT REACTIONS TO NEW DORM TOILET PAPER DISPENSERS

They climbin' in your bathrooms, they snatchin' your 'paper up...
-Antoine Dodson

I'M REALLY FRUSTRATED BECAUSE I DON'T SEE IT AS SOMETHING WE SHOULD BE SPENDING MONEY ON.
-TYLER PHASS

It's not just the fact that the toilet paper is limited now, it's the non-communication and the invasion of privacy that really irks me.
-Laurel Rich

I just want to know the reasoning behind it. Did someone steal a bunch of toilet paper and TP a professor's house or something? Is it cheaper to do it this way? If there is a legitimate reason, I won't be upset. As it stands, it's a hassle. What if I run out at 3 a.m.? What if I'm trying to sleep when they come to replace it? I want answers!
-Tarah Hawley

I am outraged. Out of all the things to spend school money on, this is not a good choice. Not only that, but no one in Anderson got the email about it, we just got maintenance people showing up and

Heather Carr: "Try having them come in one of OUR rooms."

I rolled out of bed after listening to the loud & disturbing drills for oh- 10 minutes? I was too sleepy to open my door and check into the noise, so, I jumped in the shower thinking whatever was going on would stop shortly. BUT to my complete horror and shock, about 5 minutes into my shower, I hear my bathroom door creak open. Now, keep in mind that I have no roommate & was not informed of this installation at all. I was scared. I peeked out of the shower very slowly...to see a woman staring right back at me! IAaaahhhhhhh!!!!!! I was my only reaction. She left, but came back with a man while I was scrambling around my room getting ready for my 9:30 class. I didn't know what was going on until I asked the man. No email. No knock on the door... and if she did knock... I didn't hear it because I WAS IN THE SHOWER!!
