A cooperative effort of the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission and this newspaper.

A FRIEND WAS RECENTLY TELLING ME THAT IT IS NOW AGAINST THE LAW TO SHINE A LIGHT AT DEER AT NIGHT IN SOME COUNTIES EVEN IF YOU DON'T HAVE A GUN WITH YOU. IS THIS TRUE AND, IF SO, IN WHAT COUNTIES DOES IT APPLY?

The information your friend gave you was correct. Over the past years the Wildlife Resources Commission has adopted, at the request of individual County Commissions and after public hearings on the matter, regulations prohibiting the shining of lights at deer at night in 49 of North Carolina's 100 counties. The regulation reads: "Since areas frequented by deer in the following counties are subject to substantial unlawful night deer hunting and residents of such areas have been greatly inconvenienced by persons shining lights on deer, no person shall, between the hours of 11:00 p.m. and 1/2 hours before sunrise intentionally shine a light upon a deer or intentionally sweep a light in search of deer in the following counties." Forty nine counties are listed; here in western North Carolina they include Alleghany, Ashe, Catawba, Davidson, Henderson, Iredell, McDowell, Rowan, Stokes, Surry and Yadkin. In Wilkes and four other eastern counties it is unlawful to shine lights on deer from 1/2 hour after sunset until 1/2 hour before sunrise. A complete list of counties where the regulations apply is available from the Wildlife Resources Commission's Raleigh office.

AREA RUGS

An area rug can give your room an exciting touch by imbuing it with color, texture and pattern at a reasonable cost.

An area rug should be selected to serve as a focal point in a room. For a living room or den, place it in the center of your seating arrangement to unify the furniture. The pieces should sit entirely on the rug or off it; don't place the back legs of the sofa on the floor and the front legs on the rug unless you want it to rock.

Add a touch of color to your bare floors with a bright area rug.

You may want a small 4 x 6 foot rug to sit in front of your sofa or you might like a large 12 x 15 foot one which will cover most of the floor. Consider these things before making a decision: 1. What's the condition of the floor? If the wood has a shiny, rich cared-for look, why cover all of it? If you have beat-up floors which are beyond repair, look for a large area rug. 2. If your room is very large, a 4 x 6 would look ridiculous. Keep things in scale. 3. Use area rugs to define space. If you have an L-shaped living and dining room, a large square rug for the living room and a rectangular one under the dining table and chairs will make the area look more like two.

The best thing about area rugs is the vitality and unity they can add to any room or hall.

Rice And Lamb Casserole

Now that fall is nearly here, this easy to prepare dish will make a welcome appearance on the dinner table. To serve 6 you'll need:

- 3 cups finely chopped cooked lamb
- 2 1/2 cups cooked rice
- 3 tbs. minced onion
- Pinch of cayenne pepper
- 1 cup chicken broth*
- 3 tbs. lemon juice
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 3 tbs. melted butter
- 1/2 cup fresh cracker crumbs

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Combine lamb, rice, onion, cayenne, broth and lemon juice in large bowl. Mix well. Add salt and pepper. Place in a greased 1 1/2 quart baking dish. Toss the melted butter and crumbs together and sprinkle over the top. Cover with a piece of buttered wax paper and bake for 20 minutes. Remove paper and bake 15 minutes longer, or until crumbs are lightly browned. If you prefer new ones to rice, use tiny new ones and bake them with the lamb. Serve with hot Irish Soda Bread and a crisp mixed green salad to put a sharp edge on fall appetites.

*Lamb gravy may be substituted for the chicken broth.
