A Final Bow To Summer

Weary and heavy with seed after a long hot summer, these sunflowers on Highway 150 south of town give a farewell nod. They will continue to delight the birds this winter as, when in bloom, they delighted passersby.

In other agricultural news, the North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service will sponsor a program entitled "Saving and Investing" on Tuesday, September 27, 10 a.m. and 7 p.m., in the auditorium of the County Office Building. Dr. Thelma Hinson, Specialist in Charge, Family Resource Management, North Carolina State University, will give basic guidelines for establishing a saving and investing plan and discuss saving and investment alternatives and where they are available. She will also discuss criteria for evaluating your investments and what types of investments may be better suited to different individual or family needs.

A savings and investment program is a basic part of personal money management. It is necessary to provide financial security for effective living.

Dr. Hinson will be available for private consultations on September 27, 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. and September 28, 8:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. Call Nancy H. Abasiokong, Home Economics Extension Agent, at 482-4365

Distinguished Artist At G-W

The Distinguished Artist Series of Gardner-Webb College will present in concert cellist Christopher Rex on Monday, September 19.

The 8 p.m. performance will be held in Gardner-Webb's Dover Chapel and is open to the public free of charge.

Rex will perform selections by Beethoven, Stravinsky, Bruch and Brahms. He will be accompanied by Rachel Oliver on piano.

Rex, who is a solo cellist with the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra, was the first cellist ever to win the National Federation of Music Clubs Young Artist Competition.

A member of the Philadelphia Orchestra for seven seasons, Rex has also served on the faculty of the New School of Music and during the summers of 1969 to 1973 was head of the cello faculty at the Eastern Music Festival in Greensboro, N.C.

Rex began studying the cello at the age of eight and by fourteen had performed with community orchestras in Winter Park, Fla.

In 1972 Rex graduated with a

Self-Care Workshops Underway For Senior Citizens

Learning how to take a blood pressure or how to utilize the social service agencies are just a few of the topics that will be discussed during a 13-week comprehensive workshop for senior citizens.

The workshop began on Thursday, September 9th but according to Libby McKnight, director of the Council on Aging, interested senior citizens may still enroll.

The Self-Care for Senior Citizens workshop will be held each Thursday from 2 until 4 p.m. in the seminar room of Gardner-Webb's Dover Library. A $10 fee will be charged for materials.

According to Ms. McKnight, the objectives of the workshop are to educate senior citizens in medical self-care, personal prevention and appropriate use of available health and human services.

"Our purpose is to make senior citizens more aware of their own health needs, she said. "To be able to take care of themselves and their neighbors."

During the 13-week workshop there will be sessions on nutrition, exercise, relaxation techniques, the symptoms and treatment of common illnesses as well as a session on how to handle emergencies.

The Self-Care for Senior Citizens program was developed three years ago at the Dartmouth Institute for Better Health at Dartmouth Medical School. It is designed to serve the elderly population at the community level.

Retired School Personnel Meet

The September meeting of the Cleveland County Chapter, North Carolina Retired School Personnel, was a luncheon held at the Elks Lodge on Tuesday, September 6.

Rev. D.A. Costner, a Baptist minister for 63 years, gave the invocation and the devotional giving set a "plus" in what you do. Josephine Weire gave the necrology report, speaking of the death of a beloved member, Willie Plonk Patterson, on September 2. Recent retirees and other new members were welcomed by President Myers T. Hambricht. They were given a flower to wear. Esther Millsaps was thanked for her effort in reaching these. Already 22 new members have joined.

Announcement was made that Robert Borders, Information and Protective Services Committee member, has secured a representative from EDS, State Insurance Carrier, to speak at the October meeting.

The day's program was a most interesting and instructive presentation of a trip recently made around the world. Dr. Wyan Washburn gave an overview of the extent and direction taken. His wife Emily gave her impressions of the places and people visited, telling also something of the food, Mrs. Dorothy Edwards presented slides of "Russia, Sanarkand, and China. The Chinese have been artists for thousands of years. They take pride in their work. In China no one is hungry today; no one is without work; and even though they make only about ten cents an hour they work hard. There is no problem of discipline. The people care about their children. They are supposed to have only one child and if they have more they are taxed heavily. The people are respectful to others. They are a kind and gracious people and welcome outsiders. Only the rich have cars. In Russia the people are different in attitude. They are skeptical of outsiders. It is like stepping back in time in Russia. They let visitors see and take pictures only of what they wish them to see. All of the many countries Russia has taken over are considered a part of the Soviet Union, but the conquered peoples wish to still be identified as persons from their original country, not under the name of Russians. The meeting was well attended.

Preparations Moving Upward On Elevator At College Buildings

Preparations are being made for the installation of a new elevator at Gardner-Webb College.

According to G-W President Craven Williams, one of the primary reasons for installing another elevator on campus is to further facilitate the mobility of handicapped students.

The elevator, which is being installed in the Lindsay Classroom Building will aid not only students confined to wheelchairs, but because the control buttons will be labeled with braille, the elevator will be of service to blind students as well.

"When this campus was originally constructed the special needs of handicapped students were not anticipated," said Williams. "The addition of these students has made it necessary to make adjustments, to make the campus totally accessible."

The new elevator will provide access to all floors of Lindsay and the second and third floors of the Church Annex. It is scheduled to be in operation for the beginning of the 1984 spring semester.
