CITY SCHOOL EXTENSION

ENLARGEMENT OF CITY SCHOOL DISTRICT DEPENDS ON VOTERS

When the citizens of the territory of the present City of High Point recently voted to make that territory a part of the City, that election did not make the new territory a part of the High Point City School District.

School districts can be enlarged only by special elections held for this special purpose.

Greensboro has recently enlarged its city limits, but the Greensboro City School District has not yet been enlarged. About 4,000 school children living within the present city limits of Greensboro are still in the county school districts. Durham has recently extended its city limits. The population of the city has been practically doubled, but the Durham City School District remains as it was before.

Owing to the fact that there were no adequate school facilities in the new territory recently taken into the City of High Point, the children of this territory were permitted to enter the city schools, until such time as might seem best for calling an election for the enlargement of the city school district and for voting upon the question of issuing bonds for additional school buildings.

Elections for both of these purposes have been called to be held on May 26, 1925.

In order to be legally entitled to send their children to the city schools in the future and to share in the benefits of the new building program, it will be necessary for a majority of the citizens of the new territory to cast their votes in favor of being taken into the city school district at the election which will be held for this special purpose on May 26.

Failure on the part of a majority of the citizens of the new territory to cast their votes in favor of the proposition would mean that in the future the lines of the city school district would be fixed by the old city limits. This would mean that these citizens would by their own votes be placed in the unfortunate position of being in the city in everything except schools. They would be subject to all city taxes except city school taxes, and would be entitled to all city benefits except city school benefits.

Such a contingency is not likely to happen. It will not happen unless these citizens fail to learn the facts or refuse to believe them.

GLEE CLUBS GIVE PROGRAM

The Glee Clubs presented a very interesting program Thursday morning, April 23, at the chapel assembly meeting. The Glee Clubs gave selections which they will sing at Greensboro Friday afternoon, April 24, at the annual state contest.

These selections were thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. The first selection was a solo by Slim Dallas entitled, "Give a Man A Horse He Can Ride." After this Dorothy Hoskins sang "As In A Rose Jar." Next the girls Glee Club sang "In the Time of Roses," and were followed by the girls quartette, Margaret Gurley, Dorothy Hoskins, Helen Reich, and Elizabeth Welch, who sang "Sing Me To Sleep." The following number was by the boy Glee Club, "Song of the Western Men," and the concluding number was "Blow, Blow Thou Winter Wind," by the mixed Glee Clubs.

SENIOR PLAYS ARE SUCCESSFUL

Amidst the pleasant scenes set on the stage in the high school auditorium, the three one-act plays, under the able direction of Miss Baker, were presented by the senior class last Tuesday night. From the applause of the large crowd it was evident that the audience enjoyed the variety of plays. The house was packed.

The first play was a comedy, "In the Spring." Saunders Dallas played the leading role and appeared as Dicky Trent. He made love to all the "five little J's," and even proposed to the chaperon, Mrs. Jack HiHard. Dicky was in a terrible tangle when each of the misses accepted him by sending him a letter signed "J." Dorothy Hoskins played the role of the chaperon and the five "J's" were as follows: Jean, Mary Clinard, Julia, Ruth Clinard, Jo Catherine Whitener, Janet, "Teen" Hayes, and Jacqueline, Katherine Whitener. The French maid Marie was played by Glennie Anderson. All played their parts extremely well.
