

Carolyn's
Corner

March winds have begun their frolicking escapades, cutting capers everywhere, and especially around feminine hemlines. I just couldn't help overhearing bits of conversation between two puffs of wind as they began shooting the breeze about... "Butterball" playing with liquid air... Harvey Tillis mixing junior and senior literature the same semester... Miss Hunter acting in the capacity of a preacher... Herbert Clapp and Paul Brooks looking mighty proud as they surveyed their "not-so-new" new cars... Mr. Rodhe carrying on an actual conversation without using the adverb "actually"... The absence of Betty Lee Cox who was recently operated on for appendicitis... Another H. P. H. S. maid making history for herself—Emma Jones, who lately became a Mrs. Foster... Robert Brady alertly listening to Mr. Charles W. Brown of the F. B. I. as he told about the escapades of "The Brady Gang"... The mysterious "Sweet-heart-of-the-Week" picture on the door of the Pemican office... That surprise party given by the Pemican staff to Suzanne on her 18th birthday... The return of Jack Powell to the basketball squad after a week's session with mumps... Relieved seniors who turned in those precious term papers... The impatient look on the countenances of all juniors and seniors when Mr. Whitley announced that class rings had arrived... Incidentally, have you noticed the change of mounding for this year's rings?... Couldn't help mentioning the result of Friday night's game with Greensboro... Now those two puffs of wind have died down to a whisper, but they are mumbling about the way tennis balls were kept in a whirl one afternoon while Anne Garst and Jannette Hankins were "attempting" to play some "pre-season" tennis... Just goes to show you that there's something in the wind!

Craven To Attend
D. A. R. Meeting

Doris Craven, the Good Citizenship Pilgrim from High Point High School, will attend the state D. A. R. convention at Charlotte March 2. She will represent the Alexander Martin Chapter of High Point.

Doris was chosen to be the Good Citizenship Pilgrim on the basis of dependability, leadership, service, and patriotism.

The state Good Citizenship Pilgrim will be selected from all the local representatives at the convention on March 2. They will be judged on the basis of scrapbooks prepared by the girls and giving a picture of their lives and activities. The state winner will receive a trip to the National D. A. R. Convention on May 19.

Last year Marilyn Robinette was chosen as High Point High's Good Citizenship Pilgrim, and her scrapbook received honorable mention at the state convention.

Doris will be accompanied by Anne Newton of Trinity, and Nancy Jean Gray of Thomasville, who were chosen as Pilgrims from their respective schools.

Charles F. Carroll
To Speak Today
In Atlantic City

Mr. Charles F. Carroll, superintendent of High Point city schools, will speak today in Atlantic City on the subject, "A Usable School Building for Modern School-Building Education." The occasion is the annual meeting of the American Association of School Administrators.

In his talk which will be presented as the basis of a discussion group, Mr. Carroll will state that from 1950-1960 the American people will spend from eight to twelve billion dollars on a school building program.

He will describe the modern school building as being (1) usable, (2) beautiful without being decorative, (3) economical.

While being interviewed, Mr. Carroll said: "A school has no value except to the extent that it promotes the educational program carried on within."

THE POINTER

VOL. 28. No. 6

HIGH POINT HIGH SCHOOL, HIGH POINT, N. C.

February 28, 1950

This threesome pictured above have reason to smile approvingly as they glance at last year's Pemican, for because of their past services on the staff, they have been chosen to head the 1950-'51 Pemican. Seated to the left is Venetia Wilcox, associate editor; Albert Hale, editor-in-chief; and Mary Lib Casey, business manager.

Hale, Wilcox,
And Casey To
Head Pemican

Flash! We interrupt at this time to bring you a special news bulletin from the Pemican office at High Point Senior High School. Today it was announced by officials at the school that Albert Hale, president of the junior class, will edit the 1950-1951 yearbook. Assisting him will be Venetia Wilcox and Mary Elizabeth Casey, who were chosen associate editor and business manager, respectively.

And now, stand by for the news in detail. Albert, who is succeeding Suzanne Slate as editor, has had nearly a year's experience on the yearbook staff. He has helped in the publication of the Key Club Directory and has worked with the darkroom staff. Venetia and Mary Elizabeth have also had a year's experience working with the annual.

Helping Albert and Venetia on the editorial staff will be: Max Williams, Sam Gibson, and Jeanette Hankins, engraving editors; Vivian Miller and Thomasine Strother, printing editors; Gladys Hall and Frances Mull, copy editors; Ronnie Current, sports editor; Jean Larcom, art editor; Andy Pickens, photographer; and Ann Wright, typist.

Miss Dorothy Hollar, Pemican faculty adviser, states that a business staff will be elected sometime within the next few weeks, and that some of the rising juniors may be added to the editorial staff later. She also says that work will begin on next year's annual during March.

Talent Show Has
Aquatic Setting

Have you ever been at the bottom of the ocean? That's where the 1950 Talent Show is going to be (the setting that is).

The Talent Review with its 40-member cast will emerge from its watery habitat to give its only public appearances in the high school auditorium Thursday and Friday evenings, March 16 and 17. The curtain will rise at 8 p. m.

An admission of 50 cents per person will be charged for this two-hour program. "The Pearls of Pauline, written, acted, and produced by the students of H. P. H. S. The talented cast includes ballerinas, a tap dancer, an accordionist, pianist, vocalists, a girls' chorus, and the Dreamsters. This year something new has been added in the form of a boys' chorus line led by Jack "Butterball" Petty (no whistling, please).

Rehearsals have been conducted by Mr. Paul Walter the past four weeks. While the cast has been working for perfection, the committees have been scurrying around gathering props, arranging costumes, selling tickets, and completing other necessary tasks in order to make the performance successful.

Lumberton To Be
Scene Of Library
Meeting In March

This year the annual spring meeting of the North Carolina Students' Library Association will be held in Lumberton on March 24 and 25.

The High Point High School Library Club is sending four delegates to the convention, who will be accompanied by Miss Rosemary Raney, co-ordinator of the city school libraries. The four student delegates are Iris Searce, Frances Mull, Elzene Boyles, and Nancy Samuels.

Frances Mull has received an invitation to serve on the nominating committee at this meeting. Officers for the coming year will be elected at the spring convention.

Gilbert Murphy of Greensboro High School is now acting-president of the association.

N. H. S. To Sell Cards

Senior calling cards will be sold again this year by the National Honor Society. Orders will probably be taken within the next week.

N.H.S. To Hold
Convention

The High Point chapter of the National Honor Society has submitted the name of Clara Barton as a candidate for admission in the Hall of Fame in New York City.

Each chapter of the Honor Society in the United States was invited to submit a name. The person chosen must have been dead for twenty years.

Members of the local organization recently completed a study of the qualities of various persons considered for election, and the final ballot contained the names of Zebulon Vance, Clara Barton, and Zeb Stewart.

After each chapter submits its name, the one with the highest number of votes will be sent to a college of 100 electors.

The North Carolina State Convention of the National Honor Society will be held in Concord on March 3 and 4.

Tommie Lentz, president of the local chapter, and four other delegates from High Point High School will go to the convention. There will be around 300 delegates in all.

Faculty Has
Mock Service

"I love you truly, t-r-u-ly, dear," are strains which bring to one's mind a wedding; and that is exactly what the faculty brought to the students (who forfeited a nice shiny quarter) last Friday morning.

A mock wedding was presented by the high school faculty last Friday in the auditorium for the purpose of raising funds for the purchase of a tape recorder to be used in connection with the radio station.

The wide-eyed students who jammed the auditorium watched the blushing buxom bride, Sgt. Frank Shields, gaze down into the eyes of the beaming groom, portrayed by Mrs. Flossie Shaw. After the traditional wedding music had been rendered by Mr. Carl Cronstedt, the bridal pair spoke their vows before Miss Louise Hunter, the official splicer. The jilted sweetheart, played by Mr. Paul Walter, sang with tear-filled eyes a song of grief while the other bystanders agreed sympathetically. Only faculty members were cast in the dramatization.

Ann Wright And Sonny Sorrell Cop Votes For Most Typical Boy And Girl Of H. P. H. S.

ANN WRIGHT

Junior And Sophomore
Emerge Victorious

Here's the news you've been waiting for—the most typical teenagers of High Point High School! From a slate of eight nominees, the student body selected Ann Wright and Sonny Sorrell as most typical. The slate, consisting of two nominees from each class, was made up of Glenn Hudson, Jo Ann Rothrock, Jimmy Johnson, Ann Wright, Sonny Sorrell, Helen Ridge, Donnie Boone, and Peggy Smithdeal.

Ann is a diminutive member of the junior class, and is the bearer of a thatch of naturally curly hair. Oh yeah, boys, she's a blonde. Her sparkling personality and natural wit make her a great favorite with everyone. Ann is a lover of the great out-of-doors, and spends a great deal of time at the beach every summer and at the rifle range located near her home; she's a pretty good marksman, too. Last year she was on the POINTER business staff and next year will be a typist on the Pemican staff.

Sonny Sorrell proves to be very typical. A look at his history will show that he likes to eat T-bone steak, which makes muscles for the sports he favors, baseball and football. This 5'-11" Adonis likes girls, and do they like him! Blue-eyed, blond-haired Sonny's constant companions are Monk Falls, Tommy Wood, and C. B. Brown.

SONNY SORRELL

Committee Chairmen
Chosen For Prom

Committee chairmen for the 1950 Junior-Senior prom have been selected. They are as follows: Decoration committee, Bob Fountain and Anne Bain; refreshment committee, Martha Stone; invitation committee, Joan Crowder; program committee, David Driver and Pat Johnson; music committee, Robert Brady; check room committee, Darrell Winslow; ticket committee, Betty Jo Snyder; and powder room committee, Geraldine Davis.

Committee members will be chosen by the chairman of each of the committees from the list of people who have signed up in Miss Goodman's and Miss Lindsay's rooms.

McGuinn And Fountain
To Attend Convention

The National Key Club Convention will be held at Columbus, Ohio, beginning on April 28, and continuing throughout the week-end.

Members of the club will elect a new slate of officers at the convention. The local club plans to run Bill Barrett for International Trustee.

Bill McGuinn and Bob Fountain are to attend the convention as delegates from the High Point chapter of the club. First and second alternates are C. L. Corn and Jack Petty.

The delegates, who will stay at one of the Columbus hotels, will be entertained at a banquet and dance on Saturday night.
