Republican State Chairman Foresees Prichard Victory

Predicts Asheville Man Will Carry State with 50,000 to 70,000 Majority over Bailey—Duncan on Trip to Washington.

(Greensboro Daily News)

"Reports from all sections of the state," said Senator James S. Duncan, chairman of the Republican state executive committee, yesterday, "convince me that the Republicans will elect George M. Pritchard to the senate by a majority ranging from 50,000 to 70,000, also that we will surely carry at least four congressional districts. As a matter of fact, I believe that we will carry six congressional districts, namely, the third, fifth, seventh, eighth, ninth and 10th. The Republicans are enthusiastic and are waging the campaign with a determination to win, while the Democrats, on the other hand, are disheartened on account of their state and national leadership."

Duncan Goes to Capital

Senator Duncan was questioned yesterday while he was preparing to go to Washington to confer with national Republican leaders. He left for Washington last night with the expectation of having conferences with R. H. Lucas, chairman of the executive committee of the national Republican organization; Senator Simon D. Fess, chairman of the Republican national committee; Representative Charles A. Jonas, of Lincoln, of the ninth congressional district; Stuart W. Cramer, of Charlotte and Cramerton, one of the Republican organization in North Carolina, and others.

The state chairman also expects while in Washington today, in company with other members of the municipal committee on the new federal building in Greensboro, to confer with officials of the treasury and postoffice departments in regard to proposed changes in the plans for that structure, which is to house the postoffice, federal court and other federal agencies.

Expects Tremendous Vote

In response to further questioning by a Daily News reporter Senator Duncan said:

"The Republicans are enthusiastic in all sections of the state and I am expecting a tremendous vote in November. The Democrats are finding themselves in a predicament in Tammany, with its corruption and graft, and misgovernment under Democratic rule in North Carolina is coming to light in all sections.

"Mr. Bailey claims to be paragonizing farm relief. He is the same Bailey who advocated higher taxation on farm lands and complained bitterly that the farmers' hogs were valued less for taxation than he had to pay for a ham. Mr. Bailey and the Democrats of North Carolina are endeavoring to dodge the prohibition issue, as they know that the Democratic party is now under the control of the liquor interests. We are expecting large accessions to our ranks from the independents, thinking voters of our state, the people who are unwilling for North Carolina to come under the domination of Raskob, Tammany and the liquor interests.

"Congressman Charles A. Jonas has shown his rigid adherence, in no uncertain fashion, to prohibition principles. On the other hand, Senator Lee S. Overman, who will be a candidate to succeed himself in 1932, has sought to bring himself in line with the national Democratic party by stating that he will vote for liquor if they tell him to. The strong prohibition position of George M. Pritchard, the Republican nominee for United States senator this year, is well and favorably known."

Kiwanian Edgerton Address Local Club

The Kiwanis club held its regular weekly luncheon last Thursday evening with Kiwanian Ed Edgerton, of Raleigh, and Miss Edna Earle Oneal, of Selma, as guest of the club.

Kiwanian Hare introduced Kiwanian Edgerton who made a splendid talk on "OPTIMISM." Mr. Edgerton said that we should always look on the bright side of life and not on the gloomy side. We should always look ahead for the sun no matter how dark things look.

His talk was very inspirational and was enjoyed by everyone present. Miss Oneal gave a reading which was also enjoyed very much.

Beginning Thursday, September 18, the club will meet at 6:30 P. M. instead of 7:00 P. M., which has been the custom during the summer.

Lieutenant Governor Page, of Aberdeen, Governor for the fourth Carolina District is expected to meet with the club September 18th.

Governor Page, at one time, ran for Governor of North Carolina at the time Cameron Morrison was elected.

Visit Eastern Carolina Training School

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Call visited the Eastern Carolina Training School in Rocky Mount, Sunday. They were the guests of the Supt. Mr. S. E. Leonard while in the city. Ninety delinquent boys are being cared for and trained at this institution. They are requested to attend Sunday School and church services on Sunday morning, in the afternoon a rest and quiet period is observed during which time they are expected to write a letter home. The remainder of the afternoon is spent in playing marbles, ball and other games on the grounds. Habits of neatness and cleanliness are taught, each boy making his own bed and keeping his room tidy. Mr. Leonard states that he does not have the run-a-ways now that he had before allowing the boys to play games on the grounds on Sunday afternoon. The chief method of punishment resorted to is solitary confinement, the length of time being determined by the gravity of the offense.

A granddaughter little Mary Kirby of Raleigh, celebrated her 9th birthday and the children enjoyed cutting the birthday cake. Dairy Industry One Of Nation's Largest Milk Represents a Fourth of the Production of American Farms, says Chief of U. S. Bureau of Dairy Industry.

"The dairy industry is an immense industry. It holds an exceedingly important place in our national economic structure. This must be so, because the commodity it produces is a prime essential in our very existence," said O. E. Reed, chief of the Bureau of Dairy Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, in addressing the first annual meeting of The North Carolina State Dairymen's Association at Greensboro September 12.

"The dairy industry is of such great size that it is difficult to realize how big it is," he said. "The steel industry was once called 'the dollar industry.' In the year July 1, 1927, to July 1, 1928, the total income received by American farmers for all their farm products was about $12,250,000,000. One fourth of this, or about three billions, was produced by our dairy cows. This was two and a half times the annual value of the cotton crop, two and a half times the wheat crop, and more than twice the hog crop."

The demand for the dairy products of American farms is increasing year by year; milk, butter, cheese, ice-cream, etc., are becoming a greater part of the diet of the American people, he said.

"The increase in the demand for dairy products is due to two factors. The first is the improvement that has taken place in the quality of all dairy products generally in the last few years. There is a direct relation between quality and consumption. Milk that is low in quality is always difficult to market to advantage, whereas milk of good flavor and high sanitary quality always has, under normal economic conditions, an advantageous market and is consumed in relatively large amounts. The second factor is a better understanding on the part of people generally, of the value of milk products in relation to nutrition and health. In recent years a great deal of emphasis has been put upon the vitamin content of foods. Milk is rich in vitamins, those accessory food substances which are necessary for the proper functioning of the body.

"The dairy industry and the public generally are greatly indebted to the national, regional, State, and city dairy councils for the educational work they are doing on the value of dairy products in the diet," he said, in reference to the fact that Americans still consume less dairy products per capita than is consumed in some of the European countries. "These councils are non-profit, purely educational organizations, supported by the dairy industry, and they enjoy the full confidence of school authorities and organizations interested in the health and nutrition of our people. Their service is of mutual benefit to both the dairy industry and the consumer."

"The problem of raising the general level of quality of milk and cream at the point of production, the farm, is one that must be given more consideration. The object of quality improvement are to increase consumption and provide the consumer with clean, wholesome, and nutritious dairy products. Statistics on the per-capita consumption of milk show that the Southern States are low in their per-capita consumption of all kinds of dairy products, as compared with other sections of the country. The producer as well as the manufacturer should make every effort to increase the consumption of milk."

School Opens With Record Attendance

The Selma schools opened Monday, Sept. 15, with a very large number of pupils and parents in attendance for the opening session. One verse of America was used to open Chapel exercises. Rev. D. M. Sharpe read a scripture lesson and offered prayer. Rev. W. J. Crain welcomed the teachers to the community and churches. Dr. Vick spoke directly to the pupils.

School Opens With Record Attendance

Two days recently spent in eastern Carolina convinced a group of farmers from Anson County that the soybean is a valuable soil building and hay crop.

School Folks Start Another Lawsuit

Smithfield, Sept. 16.—An interesting lawsuit was started today in the Superior Court of Johnston County, the plaintiff named being the school committee of several of the rural schools of the County, and the defendant being the County Board of Education.

The plaintiffs are asking for the issuance of a writ of mandamus, directing the board of education to take such action as may be necessary to provide the number of teachers to which the districts are entitled.

J. D. Parker is attorney for the plaintiff who filed suit yesterday in the office of the clerk of the court.

Last month when the news reached the taxpayers of the County that the board of County Commissioners had cut off the sum of $51,750.00 from the $590,250.12 school budget that superintendent H. B. Marrow had presented, which amount he claimed to be necessary for the operation of the six months schools of the County, there were many expressions of approval that came from people in all sections of the County. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that the $538,500.00 budget as approved by the County Commissioners was amply sufficient to cover the cost of the six months schools if properly handled; and as the Superintendent and his board of education were reported to have stated that they would accept whatever amount of money that might be furnished by the County Commissioners, and operate the schools on it to the best of their ability, the hope was expressed that for once Mr. Marrow and the board of education would co-operate with the County Commissioners, and lend a helping hand in keeping down expenditures.

While many dared to hope for this co-operation between the two boards, there were others who, while concurring in the opinion that with good management $538,500.00 would be sufficient for the operation of the six months schools; expressed serious doubt that any spirit of co-operation would be shown by the superintendent or his board. On the other hand it was predicted that the $51,750.00 cut which the County Commissioners had applied to the budget, would be used where, and in whatever way, that it would cause the greatest inconvenience among the people of the County, and that an attempt would be made by the Democrats to make a political issue of it in the campaign.

It now looks like that those who made these predictions were good at guessing. Some of those who have expressed their opinions as to this new move that is being made in the name of the school committees, have characterized it as "round-about way" of trying to prevent any reduction in taxes. Severe criticisms have been heard from a number of the taxpayers, and in many instances everybody that has had any part in this action has been criticized, and referred to as enemies of economical County government.

The whole thing is believed to have been planned by the Democratic politicians in the hope of preventing the Republicans from being able to say they were able to reduce taxes.

Outline of Sermon On "The Constitution"

Delivered in Elm City Sept. 14, 1930—Scripture Support: Math. 17:22-27, Rom. 13:1-8, Titus 3:1-2, 1 Pet. 2:13-17.

(By REV. D. H. TUTTLE)

1. What sort of a Constitution ought ours to be if we consider where our ancestors came from, and the conditions, religious and otherwise, of their former living in the old countries?

2. Would it not be so written as to set forth both NATIONAL and STATE rights in a gracious bond of Unity, the brotherly spirit of which proclaims, "We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves?"

3. For every one of us please his neighbor for his good to edification.

3. Under such a Constitution, the old Motto, "Live and let Live" must be a law of "Love Thy Neighbor as Thyself." A law all aglow with golden rule goodness, and its divine glory.

4. Our Country, yours, mine, so vast in length, and breadth of territory; so varied in climate, and in all sorts of material wealth must recognize the real value of the interdependence of different sections of our great country upon each other. We ought to be happily singing as our national life heaves onward.

5. How shall we pass on to posterity such a Constitutional life?

(a) By Legislative safe-guarding against foes from both within and without.

(b) By adding to our Constitution as "Growing Pains" of National life demand, such "Amendments" as are needed to protect life, liberty, and property rights against foes within, or without, our borders.

The 18th Amendment is the crown of Our Constitution. Two reasons: (1) Above, and over all, in that it protects, and will perpetuate forever the original Jefferson Document with Amendments thereto. (2) The 18th Amendment places Our Constitution NOT on a dead, but a LIVING level with the "Holy Bible." Both now speak the same thing against Strong Drink. Hear Solomon in Proverbs say: "LOOK NOT thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it moveth itself aright. At the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder."

Hear Habakkuk, the Prophet say: "Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that putteth thy bottle to him, and maketh him drunken. Also, That thou mayest look on their nakedness." Take time to read, Isa. 5:11-15: Know this: That the Bible, and all who obey it, with all patriotic lovers of Old Glory, fight liquor, while liquor lovers and politicians fight prohibition. Reader, which are you fighting?

6. By keeping conscience free from all political party bondage (or other bondage) voting only and always for men or women of well known moral character, who know, love, and will forever stand by our Constitution as now written. The Bible tells the kind of candidates to vote for, if we are to have Safe and Sane Government. Psa. 12:8, "The Wicked walk on every side, when the vilest men are exalted." God holds us accountable for results of our votes. Prov. 29, "When the righteous are in authority the people rejoice: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn."

Give God good men, or women as office holders, and He will give us good and strong Constitutional Government.

Naturally the ministers, who stand as watchmen on the tower, will employ the occasion to stress those provisions of the Constitution which makes for better morals and cleaner living. The one amendment which is now flouted even by some members of the Bar Association who give lip service to the Constitution is the 18th, adopted to aid in sacrificing a sober nation and better conditions for the home. The violation of that amendment, and the laws enacted in pursuance thereto, touch the very hearthstone of the home and strike serious blows at the Constitution of this Republic.

NOTE: This sermon was suggested by an editorial in the News and Observer of recent date.

Lespedeza plowed under on the farm of B. A. Buckner of Siler City, Chatham County, for two year increased his average corn yield on a five-acre tract from 12 bushels to 35 bushels an acre.

Last Rites For Mrs. Waddell Held At Home Saturday

The funeral of Mrs. C. B. Waddell was conducted from the home Saturday morning at 11 o'clock by her pastor, Rev. D. M. Sharpe of the local Methodist Church. A choir from the several churches in town sang, "Rock of Ages" and "Nearer My God to Thee." The rites were simple and impressive and attended by a number of relatives and friends. Lovely floral offerings bore evidence of the love and esteem in which this good woman was held. A patient sufferer for months, all those who came in contact with her, bore testimony to her ideal, Christian character. Her passing at the Johnston County hospital in Smithfield Thursday evening at 8 o'clock was, as her life had been, quiet and peaceful. A good neighbor, model wife, devoted mother.

Surviving are the husband and one daughter, Mrs. Ben Horner, of Indianapolis, Ind., and the following step-children, Mrs. Ned Ford of Louisburg, Messrs. J. B. Waddell of Durham, Robert Waddell of Wilmington, Ellis Waddell of Raleigh and Maurice Waddell of Selma. The deceased was a consistent member of the Methodist church and a most faithful attendant as long as her health permitted. Interment was in the family plot in the Selma cemetery. The pall bearers were: S. P. Wood, H. E. Earp, W. T. Woodard, J. M. Driver, C. P. Harper and G. C. Hinton.

Several Selma citizens went down to Goldsboro last night to hear Hon. George M. Pritchard speak. They report a large congregation present and noted among his audience quite a number of Simmons Democrats.
