Selma Man Weds Louisburg Lady

Mr. Charles E. Stephenson, of Selma, and Miss Leona Elliott Harris, of Louisburg, United in Marriage At Louisburg Tuesday Afternoon—Will Reside in Selma. A wedding, charming in its simplicity, and of wide interest in this State, Virginia and Tennessee took place in the Baptist Church of Louisburg Tuesday at 1:30 o'clock when Miss Leona Elliott Harris became the bride of Charles Edwards Stephenson of Selma, formerly of Raleigh. For the ceremony, the chancel of the church was artistically decorated with Boston fern, ivy and madonna lilies with tall white cathedral candles casting a soft glow over the scene. Dr. Forrest C. Feezor, pastor of Tabernacle Baptist Church of Raleigh, was the officiating minister. Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Alice Uzzell played a group of organ numbers and W. D. Barbee of Seaboard, sang "All For You" and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." Miss Lina P. Stephenson, sister of the bridegroom, played the bridal choirs from Lohengrin as a processional and Mendelssohn's wedding march as a recessional. During the ceremony she softly played "Souvenir."

The bride entered with her father, Rev. Dennis Pritchard Harris, who gave her in marriage. She was modestly attired in a silk crepe suit of dark blue featured by an ecru lace blouse. Her small hat was of dark blue and her other accessories harmonized with her costume. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of sweetheart and briarcliff roses interspersed with valley lilies. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Leslie L. Jones, of Charlotte Hall, Md., as dame of honor. Mrs. Hall's dress was of beige crepe and she wore a large picture hat of rough straw. Briarcliff roses and pink blue sweetpeas composed her shoulder corsage. The bride was met at the altar by the bridegroom who was attended by his brother-in-law, William L. Yoder of Raleigh, as best man. The bride's mother was becomingly attired in a dress of dark blue crepe and her flowers were a shoulder corsage of violets. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson left for a wedding trip to points north. Upon their return they will be at home in Selma.

Mr. Stephenson is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Dennis Pritchard Harris of Louisburg. She attended Meredith College, Raleigh, and is a graduate of the Woman's Missionary Union Training School at Louisville, Kentucky. Mr. Stephenson is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Hill Stephenson of Raleigh. He attended Richmond Business College and LaSalle Extension University. For the past two years he has been connected with the Eastern Manufacturing Company in Selma. The following were out-of-town guests at the wedding: Mr. and Mrs. Leslie L. Jones, Charlotte Hall, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Harris, New Bern; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Yoder, Mr. and Mrs. James Fontaine, Miss Lina P. Stephenson, Mrs. Etta S. Mauldin, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Lewis, Mrs. Howard Yoder, Dr. and Mrs. Forrest C. Feezor of Raleigh; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Barbee, Seaboard; Mrs. R. S. Pritchard and Miss Clara Pritchard of Elizabeth City.

Following the wedding rehearsal on Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Howell entertained the bridal party at a reception at their home in Louisburg. The receiving line was composed of: Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Howell; Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Harris, Miss Leona Harris, Charles E. Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie L. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Yoder, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Barbee, Miss Lina Stephenson, Mrs. Alice Uzzell, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Boone and Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Fuller. Miss Elizabeth Whitaker and Mr. H. H. Lowry spent Sunday with friends in Warsaw. The Selma people were in the home of National Commander Henry E. Stevens when the Commander broadcasted over the radio from New York. Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Willetts were guests of friends in Wendell Sunday.

Surprise Birthday Party.

A lovely surprise party in celebration of the 75th birthday of Mrs. W. H. Etheredge was given by Miss Margaret Etheredge at her home on Anderson street, Saturday afternoon, April 16th, at 3:30 o'clock. Another daughter, Mrs. S. E. Leonard from Rocky Mount, had arrived earlier and took Mrs. Etheredge for a ride. Guests were all seated in the living room when she returned and her surprise was complete when they greeted her with: "Happy Birthday." The honoree was seated at a table where flowers, telegrams and gifts were showered upon her. Margaret Winston Leonard, her granddaughter, assisted her to open and pass the lovely gifts around the circle. A beautifully decorated cake, the gift of Mrs. Chas. H. Belvin of Raleigh, centered the table and the other gifts were placed around. Block cream and decorated cakes were served, a pansy on each plate. About two dozen friends and relatives were present to enjoy the happy occasion. Guests from out of town were: Miss Florence Fitzgerald and Mrs. Anne Scarborough Lawrence, of Raleigh, and Mrs. Sam Leonard and daughter from Rocky Mount.

Mrs. Hare Entertains. Members of the Thursday Afternoon Bridge Club and several additional guests were entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. W. Hare. Seven tables were arranged in the living room where quantities of early spring flowers formed a background. Mrs. Carl Worley was presented with the club prize and Mrs. W. T. Godwin, of Goldsboro, visitor's prize. The hostess served a delicious plate luncheon. Club members playing were: Mesdames J. I. Doggett, G. M. Norwood, W. L. Stanfield, W. P. Aycock, A. J. Holliday, Roger Strickland, Carl Worley and E. V. Woodard.

Woman's Club Meeting. The Woman's Club held their regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon, April 13th, at the home of Mrs. J. L. Doggett, with Mrs. Hare and Mrs. W. L. Stanfield as hostesses. The meeting was opened with reading of the collect, Mrs. J. M. O'Neal, president, presiding. Reports were given from different committees. Mrs. Stanfield, chairman of the Civics Committee, stated that Selma would observe a Clean-Up Week in the near future. The Leaders for the afternoon were Mrs. J. B. Person, Mrs. A. J. Holliday and Miss Margaret Etheredge. The program on American Home Music and Art was very much enjoyed. Mrs. W. J. Crain gave several beautiful vocal selections, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. A. J. Holliday. Miss Etheredge had a large collection of pictures on display which proved to be very interesting and instructive. The feature of the meeting was the splendid talk given by Rev. Mr. Singleton, on "Religious Training" in the home. The club adjourned, and a social period was enjoyed. The hostesses served coffee and doughnuts.
