Party For Bride

Miss Evelyn Gurley entertained at bridge Tuesday afternoon at her home in the Carson Apartments, complimenting Miss Mary Evelyn Parker, June bride-elect. Sharing honors with Miss Parker were: Misses Mary Lou McKinnon, and Elizabeth Reid, whose engagements have been announced.

The rooms were lovely with roses and other spring flowers. Three tables of bridge were played, and at the conclusion of the game an attractively appointed salad course was served by the hostess, assisted by Misses Minnie Lee Peedin and Margaret Tiddy.

A shower of dainty handkerchiefs was presented to Miss Parker, Misses McKinnon and Reid each received a pretty handkerchief, and the three brides-elect were remembered with gifts of silver.—Gastonia Daily Gazette.

Last Meeting of Selma P-T-A.

The last meeting of the Selma P. T. A. for the present school year will be held next Monday night, May 15th, in the high school auditorium. A welfare program has been planned. Rev. N. H. Massey, pastor of the Baptist church in Smithfield, will be the speaker for the evening. His message will be to parents and especially to fathers. A prize will be given the grade having most fathers present. Miss Margaret Etheredge and Miss Dorothy Adams will be in charge of the program. The public is cordially invited to be present and a large attendance is expected.

Mr. Glover's brothers, Hayden and Julian Glover from Dabney, N. C., were in Selma Sunday night to meet the family.

Senior Play Big Success

The Senior play, "Joan of Arkansas," was given Friday night before a large audience. This Farce-Comedy of a domineering mother who had been completely spoiled by being always allowed to have her own way and the laughable situations as the family first; Revolt, then battle, then win the victory, furnished a splendid evening's entertainment. Miss Katherine Aycock in the role of "Mother" was splendid; as also were William Norman Holt, another's son; Edward Hoge Vick, as Tutor; Walter Jones as the butler. Other parts were played well; Marie Brown, mother's maid; Jimmie Woodard Mother's husband; Pansy Jones, Mother's choice for her son; Clarine George mother's younger daughter; Mother's chauffeur, Fred Creech; Hazel Driver, Mother's Elder daughter; Sara Creech, Joan Neal, from Arkansas; Ervin Godwin, Sir Cecil Deveroux, mother's choice for her elder daughter; James Easom, Dennis Maloney, the policeman.

A song between acts by the Senior class mascots; Little Mary Lou Driver and Billy Black made a big hit.

The play was presented under the direction of the senior class sponsor, Miss Zelma Parker.

R. W. Ward Dies At Raleigh Home

Former United States Marshal For Eastern Carolina Passes Friday.

R. W. Ward, prominent Republican and the United States Marshal for Eastern North Carolina from 1921 to 1929, died at his home here last night at 10 o'clock following an illness of 10 days with pneumonia.

Mr. Ward, a native of Greenville, was 63 years of age. He was well known throughout North Carolina for his activities in the Republican party.

Mr. Ward is survived by his widow, five sisters, Mrs. C. M. Jones, Greenville; Mrs. J. J. Satterthwaite, Pictolus; Mrs. Earl G. Fleming, Athlanta; Mrs. J. J. Briley, Greenville; and Miss Ada C. Ward, Washington, D. C.; and one brother, Ed. Ward, Greenville.

Interment will take place here but complete arrangements for funeral services had not been completed last night.

Mr. Ward was appointed Marshal in 1921 and was succeeded by E. C. Geddies.—News and Observer.

MERCHANT SHOT BY NEGRO

R. E. Willoughby, merchant of near Greenville, N. C., was shot in the right hand and leg as he exchanged fire with a negro, Frank Rogers, on Saturday night. The colored man had attempted to hold up the merchant.

Program For Scout Week Is Arranged

At a meeting of the Boy Scout committee, held Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Brietz, an interesting program was arranged for the Boy Scout rally and dedicatory services, beginning on Saturday, May 27th.

Saturday, all day Scout activities at the camp, seven miles north of Selma. All Scouts in Johnston county will take part.

Sunday, May 28, the Selma troop, members of the Kiwanis Club and their wives will have a basket picnic dinner at the camp.

At 1:30 p. m., the dedicatory services will be held. O. H. Benson, of Washington, D. C., leader Rural Boy Scout movement of America, will deliver the address. Mr. Benson will be accompanied by twelve Boy Scouts of Washington City, who will spend the week end here.

Saturday night an illustrated lecture will be given at the high school auditorium to which the public will be invited.

A union church service will be held at one of the city churches on Sunday evening. The sermon will be preached by an out-of-town minister.

JOHNSTON COUNTY NIGHT SCHOOL PUPILS GIVEN CERTIFICATE BY GOVERNOR

A group of 18 from the Selma night school, including their instructor, Mrs. R. C. Mazingo, and the district chairman, Miss Margaret Etheredge, were joined in Clayton by eleven pupils and Miss Mary Hocutt, instructor, making a total of 30 attending the State Federation of Women's Club convention in Raleigh last Thursday. They were received in the Virginia Dare ball room, which served as assembly hall during the convention. More than 2,000 night school pupils have been enrolled in North Carolina during the year and only about 400 certificates were given. On account of the depression a large number of the counties had no night school representatives at the convention.

Governor Ehringhaus presented the Johnston county pupils with their own certificates and also those intended for pupils from other counties which in turn were sent to them.

One of the Johnston county pupils thanked the governor for his interest and expressed the hope that he would keep up the good work until every illiterate in the state could read and write.

Roxboro had a class present and one of these pupils made a short talk.

Mothers Everywhere Await this Hour . .

IT'S THE HOUR when son or daughter or old friends visit her each week from some distant place by telephone. How happily she looks forward to this hour.

Thousands of families are doing this each week . . . enjoying a short, inexpensive voice visit by telephone with mother or other members of the family in other cities. Because your voice is you over the telephone, such visits are just as personal as though you were in the same room.

Visiting loved ones at regular intervals by long distance telephone is the most satisfactory way to keep family ties alive at small cost.

SOUTHERN BELL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY
(Incorporated)

Selma received the highest number of certificates of any night school in the state.

The visitors were taken to the Legislature, the museum and other places of interest while in Raleigh.

The Selma night school pupils wish to acknowledge their indebtedness to their teacher, to Miss Margaret Etheredge, district chairman, Mr. O. A. Tuttle, Supt. of Selma Schools, Mr. H. B. Marrow, Supt. of Johnston County schools, Mr. W. H. Call, chairman county Board of Education, and Mr. G. W. Grier, Supt. Eastern Mfg. Co., for their interest and cooperation.

TOBACCO INSECTS MAY BE CONTROLLED

The annual toll by insects of thousands of dollars worth of tobacco grown in North Carolina may be avoided by simple remedies which are suggested by C. H. Brannon, extension entomologist at State College.

For instance, says Brannon, use the "1 to 6" mixture at the rate of 3 pounds an acre on newly set plants and from 4 to 6 pounds an acre on tobacco half-grown or larger, to control the flea beetle. The one to six mixture is made by mixing one part of Paris Green with five parts of arsenate of lead. The mixture as advocated for half-grown plants will also control horn worms. In both cases, it is necessary to apply the dust to the under-side of the leaves.

Bud worms cause considerable damage each year and may be controlled by mixing one pound of arsenate of lead with 50 pounds of corn meal. For small amounts, use 6 heaping table-spoonful of the lead arsenate to one peck of corn meal. The poison must be carefully mixed through the meal and one peck or 12 pounds used per acre. Brannon advises making the application early in the morning when the buds are open. Drop a small pinch of the mixture directly into the center of the bud. The bud worm prefers the meal to the tobacco and will eat enough to cause his death.

Cut worms sometimes cause considerable damage to tobacco recently set in the field. To control these pests, Brannon advises making a mixture of wheat bran, 50 pounds, and paris green, one pound, with enough water to moisten the mixture. Apply this at the rate of 15 to 20 pounds late in the afternoon. If a heavy rain occurs, the application must be repeated.

For horn worms, Brannon suggests the one in six mixture as advocated for flea beetles.
