Associate Hostesses At Post-Nuptial Tea

Entertaining at one of the most brilliant events of the season Mrs. J. F. Woodall, Mrs. DeWitt Woodall, and Miss Stella Creech were associate hostesses at a post-nuptial tea at the Macon Tuesday afternoon from 4:00 to 6:00 o'clock honoring Mrs. Will Woodall, the former Miss Louise McLamb, whose marriage occurred in late August.

Decorations in the spacious first floor of the Macon, thrown ensuite, consisted of althea and lace fern in pedestal baskets, table baskets, and urns filled with asters, roses, and greenery, and a massive water vase of soldier blue containing watermelon pink crepe myrtle among which was interspersed white edged foliage, and numerous vases of low bowls of mixed garden flowers arranged with fern and candles. The stair newels in the reception hall were entwined with clematis atop of which rested an arrangement of clematis over which reflected a soft light from white tapers nestled within.

In the dining room the refreshment table with its Spanish lace cover and three-branched crystal candelabra was centered with the crystal punch bowl about which graceful sprays and garlands of clematis were placed and festoons of which were draped from the midline of the table cascading over the edge of the table cascading over the edge. A crystal basket of heliotrope asters graced the buffet and other floral decorations consisted of baskets of dahlias, and white and violet periwinkle flanked by candles.

"Cleanliness" should be the watchword of every girl and woman afflicted by discharge. And thousands have discovered daily douching with Lydia E. Pinkham's SANATIVE WASH most EFFECTIVE. Unlike many products, Pinkham's Sanative Wash is NOT a harmful, burning germicide. Instead it's an excellent BACTERIOSTATIC (the modern trend) which delightfully cleanses, deodorizes, inhibits bacterial growth and discourages infection. Very soothing to delicate membranes. Especially pleasing for marriage hygiene.
