Miss Peedin Becomes Bride Of Robert Edward Perry

Of interest to their friends in Selma is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Mary Catherine Peedin of Smithfield to Mr. Robert Edward Perry of Selma, which took place in the Smithfield Methodist church Sunday morning, August 3rd, at 8:30. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. J. Boone, pastor of the church of which the bride is a member.

The ceremony was witnessed only by members of the immediate family, but the impressiveness of the occasion was augmented by the simple and attractive church decorations.

Miss Dorothy Narron played a program of organ music just prior to the entrance of the bridal party, using MacDowell's "To A Wild Rose," Schubert's "Serenade" and "Intermezzo." During the ceremony Liebstrom was played. The wedding music also included a vocal solo, "The Words of Ruth," sung by Mrs. J. V. Morgan of Raleigh. The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride and bridegroom entered the church together and there were no attendants.

The bride wore a becoming costume of white starched chiffon with a quaint white ruffled hat. Her accessories were white. A shoulder corsage of pink rosebuds completed her attire.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry left at once for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., after which they will be at home in Smithfield, using an apartment with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Langdon on Eighth street.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Joseph Peedin, formerly of Selma but now of Smithfield. She graduated from the Smithfield high school and later took a commercial course at King's Business College in Raleigh. She is employed in the law office of Wellons and Wellons.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Perry of Selma. He is a graduate of the Presbyterian Junior College at High Point, and holds a position with the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company here.

Perkins Family Reunion Was Held Last Sunday

The annual Perkins family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Perkins, southeast of Goldsboro, on Sunday, August 3, 1941.

A most interesting program was presented during the day. The welcome address was made by Theodore Perkins and the response was by Miss Katherine Davis. Miss Ella Perkins, vice-president of the organization, read the Scripture, and the Rev. J. Hugh Hollowell of Mt. Olive, gave the invocation.

Both vocal and instrumental music was presented by Kimrey Perkins, Raymond Davis, and Miss Flora Faw, Miss Mary Faye Perkins and others. Mrs. Annie Walker of Pikeville, gave the main talk of the day. Miss Lois Pike of Pikeville, gave several readings.

A most impressive memorial service was held for the five members of our clan who have gone on to the other shore since last we met, namely: John Bryant Pate, Goldsboro; Foy Perkins, Raleigh; Mrs. Annie Perkins, Goldsboro, and Paul Kermit Perkins, Jr., of Newport, Rhode Island.

At the business session, all officers were re-elected for another year, as follows: Mrs. Geo. W. Pernins, Goldsboro, Ruote 1, president; Miss Ella Perkins, Goldsboro, Route 1, vice-president; Mrs. M. E. Draughon, Kenly, secretary, and Walter Perkins of Goldsboro, treasurer. K. D. Perkins was made master of ceremonies.

The reunion is set to meet the first Sunday in August, 1942, at the same place.

Around 225 persons attended the reunion this year, with South Carolina and Virginia well represented. Those attending from places other than Wayne county and out-of-state, came from Princeton, Selma, Raleigh, Charlotte, Durham, Franklinton, Wilson, High Point, Chapel Hill, Randleman, Cary, etc.

Boy Drafted While Checking Movie 'Caught In the Draft'

Dick Lasater, 25-year-old ticket checker for a movie concern, really got caught in the draft here Tuesday night.

Lasater, employee of the Ross Federal Service of Charlotte, was ordered to report to the Dunn hospital Tuesday night to be examined for induction into Selective Service.

He wired his employer at Charlotte that he was "caught in the draft" and had to have the night off to be examined.

The name of the picture he was checking at Worth Stewart's Dunn Theatre was "Caught In The Draft," one of the popular war theme pictures. Lasater passed the examination in flying colors, and the next day wrote his employer at Charlotte:

"Caught in the Draft" will be the last movie I can check for you, because I've been caught in the draft myself."

Lasater is a resident of near Erwin, and works in this section for the Charlotte firm.—Dunn Dispatch.

Hostesses To Members Of Circle "C"

Mrs. H. V. Gaskill and Mrs. J. C. Woodard entertained the members of Circle "C" of the Methodist church Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Gaskill. Mixed garden flowers were used in the living room where guests assembled.

Mrs. Woodard led the devotional. Circle leader, Mrs. W. L. Norton, presided during the business period.

A quiz contest was held, with Mrs. W. E. Tyler as the winner. She received a piece of crystal as prize. The hostesses served sandwiches, cacaolas, and potato chips.

OUR LOSS ...THE NATION'S GAIN

EACH one of the many men who are daily stepping out of the dress of the telephone worker into the uniform of our nation's defenders, is a distinct loss to the telephone organization, but a valuable asset to our nation's defense.

They are men already trained, self-disciplined and imbued with the true spirit of service which develops steadiness and self-reliance under the strain of emergencies. Bell Telephone workers acquire these characteristics through training, and the experience gained in maintaining the Bell System's ideals of service.

While these telephone men are performing their duties to the nation, they and their families feel secure in the knowledge that when their country no longer needs them in its armed services there is a place awaiting them with the telephone company.

At home are 25,000 telephone workers, who, though not wearing the uniforms of our nation's defenders, are working harmoniously to expand and safeguard the lines of telephone communication so vital to the nation's defense program.
